

DIGGS, 2 YEARS; CAMINETTI EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Judge Van Fleet Also Imposes Fines Under White Slave Law

PART DRINK PLAYED
Prisoners Prefer to Spend Time in Federal Penitentiary—To Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Two years in the federal penitentiary on McNeil's island, Washington, and a fine of $2,000 is the price Maury I. Diggs, former state architect of California, must pay for the three days in Reno with Marsha Warrington, a Sacramento society girl. Eighteen months in the same prison and a fine of $1,500 was the penalty imposed on his friends and companion, F. Drew Caminetti, son of Anthony Caminetti, U. S. Commissioner General of Immigration, for a like offense. Caminetti, who with Marsha Warrington's friend, Lola Norris, both stood under conviction of violating the Mann white slave law, although Judge Van Fleet, in pronouncing sentence today from the bench of the United States district court agreed with counsel for the defense that the statute was not intended by its author to cover such offenses as those admitted by the defendants. The act makes it a felony for a man to transport a woman from one state to another for immoral purposes, and its popular designation as the white slave law has led to its being applied to cases of this kind. The court explained, a feeling that the element of gain must be a contributing factor to the act forbidden, and made criminal.

Diggs and Caminetti made this general understanding their defense. As far as they could, or the judge would permit, they attacked the law for setting up "territorial immorality." They did not deny their presence with the girls in Reno but they disclaimed any intent to sell them into lives of shame.

SEEMED UNCONCERNED.
Diggs and Caminetti received the sentences with seeming unconcern. A moment after the judge had left the bench they laughed and chatted about their situation with deputies and newspaper men.

Mrs. Anthony Caminetti, mother of one of the defendants, and A. Caminetti, Jr., his brother, were in court. Mrs. Maury I. Diggs, wife of the other man, and L. E. Diggs of Berkeley, his father, also sat at the table for the defense. The elder Diggs and Mrs. Caminetti received the words of the court with bowed heads; Mrs. Diggs sat with a blank expression on her face as if not thoroughly understanding the proceedings. Young Caminetti, who went to the two defendants' words of comfort and of hope that an appeal that might result favorably JAIL OR PRISON?

In his address to the court Attorney Devlin laid emphasis upon his interpretation of the federal statute, that, it being compulsory upon the court under the verdicts to fix some degree to punishment, it was at the same time discretionary with the court whether the defendants must serve their sentences in a federal prison or state penitentiary or county jail should their sentences exceed one year. Devlin held that the statute failed to provide that men convicted of felonies in the United States courts must be sent to a federal prison or state or county jail and that in the omission of this provision the place of imprisonment was left to the judgment of the court.

Devlin was trying to save his clients from the stigma of a penitentiary sentence and Judge Van Fleet said he had made an exhaustive search of the authorities "with anxiety and care for light upon the point and had failed to find one."

Matt Sullivan, special assistant United States district attorney, said: "Under the peculiar circumstances of this case, the government does not want to suggest anything with reference to the sentences to be imposed on these men. I will say, however, that the question under discussion has never been settled and that the court might be taking chances if the men were sent to any prison other than a state jail or a federal penitentiary."

LAXITY AND DRINK
Diggs and Caminetti were then called to bar. Judge Van Fleet said: "It now becomes my painful duty to pronounce judgment on you defendants. Without commenting upon the elements surrounding the case, I say now that the defendant Diggs had the more dominating character in certain respects and had it not been for his carrying capacity in these matters that have been heard here, these young men might not now be before the court for sentence. It is unnecessary to characterize the offense committed. The responsibility is resting upon these men."

"This was a crime of opportunity. I mean that the laxity of social conditions and the lack of parental control made it possible. I wish further to say that all through this case there is the evidence that drink had its paralyzing influence upon the minds and the girls with whom they went on their trip to Reno. The terrible, debilitating influence of the season, the deadfall and the road houses is too disgustingly apparent in this pitiful situation and I make observation here that society must pay the price for permitting the existence of these highly objectionable places."

"This does not help me to exculpate these defendants. I agree with counsel."

HISTORY OF DIGGS CAMINETTI CASES COVERS A YEAR

Here is the history of the Diggs-Caminetti case, which developed into the Federal case which became of nation-wide interest:

September, 1912—Caminetti and Diggs introduced to Miss Norris and Miss Warrington.

October, 1912—The four became intimate and spend their first evening together.

January 31, 1913—The two couples go to San Francisco in Diggs' automobile and stay at the Grand Hotel. The following night they stop in San Jose.

March 10—On a train early Sunday morning, March 10th, the two couples flee to Reno.

March 14—The party is arrested at the Reno bungalow.

March 15—Diggs and Caminetti jailed in Sacramento on charges of abandonment. Girls released on bonds of $1,000.

April 12—Federal Grand Jury, sitting at San Francisco, indicts Diggs and Caminetti for violations of the Mann White Slave Act.

June 15—Attorney General James McReynolds advises John L. McNeil, United States District Attorney, to postpone the trial of the cases until autumn.

June 20—McNeil wires resignation to President Wilson in a caustic message, in which he says politics has interfered to stay the hand of justice. Resignation accepted.

June 24—President Wilson orders immediate trial of the cases, and appoints Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore Roche as Special Prosecutors for the government.

August 5—Trial of Diggs opens before Judge William C. Van Fleet, United States District Court.

August 26—Diggs is found guilty on four counts of indictment of sex crimes.

August 27—Trial of Caminetti opens before Judge Van Fleet.

September 5—Jury returns verdict of guilty against Caminetti.

September 10—Diggs and Caminetti were to be sentenced by Judge Van Fleet, but sentence continued pending trial of Diggs and Harris.

September 17—Diggs and Caminetti sentenced to two years and eighteen months in penitentiary and $2,000 and $1,500 fines respectively.

ROOSEVELT MAY BE EXPOSITION ENVOY
Plan To Send Him To Urge England and Germany To Exhibit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Colonel Roosevelt may be the special envoy of the United States to England and Germany to secure their participation in the San Francisco exposition in 1915.

It became known tonight that while on a former tender, had been made to Colonel Roosevelt, prominent Californians identified with the exposition had suggested to the administration that the former president might be persuaded to go to London and Berlin before he sails next month for South America.

It was stated on good authority also that both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan approve the idea, but are withholding a formal offer until they know the outcome of the negotiations now being conducted in Europe by J. E. Y. Skiff, director general of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The interest of the administration in securing foreign participation is not alone to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal to civilization, but to make of the Panama-Pacific Exposition a forum for the cause of universal peace.

CHARLES DE YOUNG DIES OF TYPHOID

Young Newspaperman and Exposition Director Well Known in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Charles De Young, general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle, who has been critically ill with typhoid fever and complications, died tonight shortly after 11 o'clock.

Charles De Young was the son of Michael H. De Young, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and one of the founders. He was a native of San Francisco, 32 years of age and unmarried.

His death tonight followed a period of three or four days. He was stricken with typhoid shortly after returning to his home in San Francisco from a trip to Del Monte. The illness was typhoid-pneumonia complicated with peritonitis and for the past several days he has been between life and death.

De Young was a prominent figure in the social life of San Francisco and was widely known throughout the state. A period of his youth was spent in France, where he attended school. He was a graduate of Harvard at the age of 1908.

He was one of the prime movers in planning for the Panama-Pacific Exposition and was a member of the exposition directorate.

TOWN IN ECUADOR BURNS
GUAYACIL, Ecuador, Sept. 17.—Half of the town of Guayacil, the Ecuadorian seaport opposite this city, was destroyed by fire today.

ENGLAND FEARS STEPS TO CUT UP CHINESE TERRITORY

Warns Japan Not to Undertake Any Military Action At Nanking

DEMANDS OF TOKYO
Must Be Accomplished Through Diplomatic Efforts At Peking

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—A Shanghai dispatch says the Japanese-Chinese situation has become accentuated. In Peking it is believed that Japan is acting with the tacit support of Russia. The Chinese government is determined to avoid a conflict by all means but danger lies in Japan's possible insistence on the removal of General Chang Huan.

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—China's acceptance of Japan's demands in connection with the killing of a Japanese at Nanking is confined thus far to minor points. No answer has been received to the demand for an apology for insults directed against the Japanese flag and uniform or to the demand for the dismissal of General Chang Huan from the government of Kiang-Si province.

Before representing her demands, the Japanese foreign office sounded Great Britain regarding her attitude in event of military action being taken, and learned that Great Britain would view it with apprehension, as such action would be likely to encourage the partition of China among the powers. The British government promised its Peking in the demand for indemnity and an apology but refused to countenance military or naval action.

SCHMIDT HAD PLAN TO GO INTO HIDING
Engaged Room Just Before Discovery of His Victim's Body

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—That Hans Schmidt, the Jekyll-Hyde priest, whose life was exposed Sunday when he was arrested and confessed the murder of Anna Amuller after killing the girl and dismembering her body in a Brahmist avenue flat, hired another apartment in which he presumably planned to conceal himself, was developed from police discovery today.

Evidence also was found linking closer and for a longer period than had been supposed the lives of Schmidt and his alleged counterfeiting partner, the unlicensed dentist, Dr. Ernest Muret.

The latter papers found in his office by official searches indicated, and London for some offense committed while practicing medicine there, and had practiced in Chicago under the name of "Dr. Arnold Held," leaving that city and dropping the name of Held some time subsequent to July, 1908. Although Muret has claimed he met Schmidt only six months ago, evidence has appeared that they had business relations as long as two years ago and that the dentist long had knowledge of Schmidt's counterfeiting experiments.

District Attorney Whitman returned to the city today from a brief vacation and took the Schmidt investigation in hand. Coincidentally the federal authorities stepped into the case with warrants for Schmidt and Muret charging that they had in their possession implements with which to make counterfeit money.

The detectives, still scouring the neighborhood in which Anna Amuller was murdered, found today that three days after the crime a man resembling Schmidt, but giving another name, rented an eighth avenue apartment, for which he paid a month's rent. Two suit cases which were left there contained photographs of Miss Amuller and Schmidt, as well as numerous little feminine belongings, evidently those of the murdered woman. Baby clothes made up and embroidered and material for many other garments—enough for a complete outfit for an infant—were among the contents of the grips. Some of Schmidt's things were there, "Van Dyke," one of his aliases; a false mustache and false goatee and numerous other articles.

Schmidt has intended to remove all the bloody, telltale evidence from the Brahmist flat to his never-forgotten quarters, but the discovery of Anna Amuller's body and the consequent police search in the neighborhood where the girl was killed spoiled his plans, the police believe.

MURET'S ALIBIS
Several interesting discoveries resulted from the search of Dr. Muret's office today. That he had practiced in Chicago under another name was indicated by a certificate issued by "The American College of Medicine-Therapy" to "Dr. Arnold Held." Attached to the certificate is an excellent photograph of Dr. Muret with the attestation of a notary that he was the person described in the certificate "living at 476 North Clark street, in the city of Chicago and practicing medicine." The certificate bears date of July 1, 1909.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE
Not in session today. Thursday. Banking committee continued hearings on administration currency bill. Public lands committee agreed on a day for a final vote on the Hatch Hetchy water bill.

HOUSE
Met at noon and continued discussion of the administration currency bill for amendment. House recessed at 5:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Completed detailed consideration of administration currency bill, and agreed to take final vote Thursday. Adjourned at 11 p. m. to noon Thursday.

SLIT SKIRTS AND X-RAY GOWNS; BUT SLEEVES BARRED

(Special to the Republican)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Slit skirts and X-ray gowns may come and go unmolested in the lobby of the Hotel Alexandria, but even the slightest of slit skirts unbidden by a coat will not be tolerated there if word by more man.

Tom Bradley, young Los Angeles club man and man about town, discovered this today when he removed his faultless English walking coat, displaying a striped shirt of exquisite lavender hue. He was starting across the lobby with a sigh of relief when a tall, severe looking clerk intercepted him.

"Sorry, but you'll have to put your coat on, sir," said the stern voice of the clerk.

"Coat on? I shant do it!" said Bradley.

"Then you'll have to leave the lobby, sir," insisted the clerk reproachfully.

"Very well, I'll leave then," and with becoming dignity, but with his most becoming still still exposed, Bradley stalked forth.

80 DAYS FOR SLIT SKIRT MASQUERADER AT REDDING, CAL.

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 17.—Women may wear slit skirts and diaphanous gowns in Redding, but men, never. Judge Hoesinger made this clear today when he sentenced James Dwyer to 80 days for thirty days for masquerading in one of fashion's latest creations.

Dwyer donned a slit gown last night and went to a hotel where he attempted to flirt with the clerk. The clerk was a married man and telephoned for the police.

ITALIAN GENERAL KILLED IN TRIPOLI

Arabs Forced to Retreat But At Heavy Loss to Conquerors

BENGHAZI, Tripoli, Sept. 17.—The Italian commander, General Torrelli and thirty-three Italian officers and men were killed in a battle yesterday with Arab tribesmen. The news reached this city today. The Italian list of wounded includes seventy-five officers and men. The Arab losses are not stated, but were undoubtedly very heavy.

The Italian column, which had been sent for some time against the tribesmen, found them strongly entrenched on a high commanding the valley of Toeniz. When attacked the Arabs resisted with great stubbornness, being aided by the nature of the ground. They disputed fiercely every effort of the Italian infantry to advance, but the Italian artillery was served with rapid precision, compelling the Arabs to retreat to the desert.

General Torrelli fell at the head of his troops while urging them on to the attack.

WILL S. P. CONTINUE PACIFIC MAIL LINE?

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—R. P. Scherer, vice president of the Pacific Steamship Company, has left New York for a conference with the Southern Pacific directors relative to the steamship company's future. The conference is said to be expected to settle the question of whether the Pacific Mail is to continue to be operated in connection with the Southern Pacific despite the refusal of the government to permit railroad-owned steamships to utilize the Panama canal.

If the Southern Pacific decides to retain the steamship company, the vessel, it is said, will be converted into oil burners.

TO TAKE VOTE ON HATCH HETCHY BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Senate public lands committee today agreed on a final vote next week, September 24, on the Hatch Hetchy bill to give San Francisco the right to use part of the Hetch Hetchy Valley as a reservoir for its public water supply system.

SULZER TRIAL IS TO OPEN TODAY IN NEW YORK SENATE

Will Governor Resign Rather Than Face Examination Still Question

DISCUSS PROCEDURE
Tammany Gets Strong Array of Legal Talent For Prosecution

ALBANY, Sept. 17.—The stage is set for the opening at noon tomorrow of the trial of the impeachment of William Sulzer, governor of New York before the first high court of impeachment ever convened in this state to pass upon charges filed against her chief executive.

While Governor Sulzer conferred tonight with his counsel, members of the Assembly board of managers, who will act as prosecutors, discussed with their legal assistants methods of procedure on the morning. Members of the court of appeals and the senators who jointly compose the high court, also mapped out their plan of action.

Friends of the impeached executive repeated their assertions that he was in good spirits, confident of a verdict which will clear his name of the stigma cast upon it by the adoption of the articles of impeachment. They were no less certain that he had no thought of resigning and thus escaping the ordeal of what promises to be a lengthy trial. On the other hand his opponents were free in expressing the opinion that after the legal preliminaries had been swept away and the taking of testimony had begun the governor would surrender his office rather than face cross examination.

From the governor's camp only surmises as to his defense.

These, in effect, were that his counsel first would attack the validity of the impeachment on the ground that the assembly had no authority to adopt the articles while in extraordinary session and that Governor Sulzer will have to prevent senators who served on the Frazer committee and those who may be called upon to testify from sitting as judges.

If the preliminary objections are overruled and it is the general opinion tonight that they would be—it is understood Governor Sulzer will base his defense upon the claim that whatever he may have done prior to his inauguration last January, none of his acts while executive constitutes a high crime or a misdemeanor.

The belief that the preliminary legal technicalities will be disposed of quickly is strengthened by the assertion of Chief Judge Edgar C. Cullen of the Court of Appeals who will preside over the deliberations of the high court.

"I anticipate no delay either in the opening or the course of the trial," he declared. "I expect we shall be able to decide the preliminary legal questions that may be raised within a few hours."

The procedure to be followed, the order of voting and other details, Judge Cullen said, probably would be decided by a committee composed both of judges of the court and senators.

An important development today was the announcement by Chairman Levy of the assembly's impeachment committee that John B. Stanchfield had been added to the prosecution's legal battery. Other attorneys who will aid in the prosecution are Alton B. Parker, Edgar T. Brackett, Eugene Lamb, Richards, Isadore J. Kreel and Harum Todd.

According to present plans, as soon as the Senate has convened tomorrow a committee will notify the judges that the Senate is ready to take up the business of the court and the judges will go to the Senate Chamber. The board of managers of the assembly then will present the articles of impeachment. At this point Governor Sulzer will be called to present his answer. This will be preceded by his given disputed points will be raised by his counsel.

SULZER MEN WIN IN NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Anti-organization forces won a convincing victory in the primaries here yesterday. Mayor Louis F. Fuhrman, who headed the anti-organization ticket, was re-nominated by a margin of two to one over George J. Meyer, candidate of the regular Democratic organization. Allied with Fuhrman was William J. Conners, former state chairman.

In losing the mayoralty contest, Chairman Fitzpatrick also lost control of the county committee. The leadership passes into the hands of Henry P. Burrard, who made his fight under the name of the "Wilson-Sulzer League."

Four Democratic assemblymen who voted for the impeachment of Governor Sulzer were defeated for re-election.

FOUR ALPINE CLIMBERS FOUND IN CREVASSE

PONTRESINA, Switzerland, Sept. 17.—The bodies of four alpine climbers, missing since September 12, were found today in a crevasse on the Pula Peak, in the upper Engadine near here. All were experienced mountaineers, but were caught in a series of heavy snowdrifts.

One of the bodies was that of a woman, the names of the others not ascertained today.

STEEL PRICES LOWERED BRESLAU, Germany, Sept. 17.—The German Steel Works Association today decided to reduce the price for steel beams and half finished steel products by approximately $1.25 per ton for the last quarter of the year.

SOUTHERN COAST HAS HOT WAVE; GOES UP TO 111

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—With the thermometer at 108—within one degree of the local heat record—firemen battled this afternoon with a fierce flame which gutted the Sanburn building, a main street business block. Seven of the firemen were prostrated and rushed, some of them "delirious," to the emergency hospital.

"I'll save you huddin'," cried one under the hallucination that his partner was caught in the flames. As the man lay on his cot in the hospital, he cursed his captors who refused to let him have his "buddie."

The Sanburn building burned with a loss estimated at $40,000. Other fires caused further suffering of the firemen who were forced to face excess heat in rubber coats and helmets.

The heat wave extended over a large area of Southern California. The maximum temperature here was 108 degrees at 2 o'clock, dropping slightly after 4 o'clock. The second mark according to officials of the United States weather bureau office was 105 degrees on July 25, 1891.

Neighboring towns sent in many high marks during the day. Some of the highest were: Santa Ana, 111; Pomona, 110; Riverside, 108; San Bernardino, 107; Redlands, 105.

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 17.—The temperature here at one o'clock this afternoon was at 108 degrees, breaking all known records for this city. Although the heat was unusual, there was no great inconvenience as there was practically no humidity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Warmer weather than that of yesterday prevailed in some parts of the state, but temperatures generally lower today. From San Luis to San Diego it was considerably warmer today than yesterday. In San Luis Obispo a temperature of 110 was recorded; in Los Angeles 108 and San Diego 110. The thermometer dropped to 84 today in San Francisco.

In Sacramento valley the minimum temperature recorded today was 104. It was 105 in the San Joaquin valley and 102 in the Salinas valley.

The forecast for tomorrow is cooler with probable fog in the morning. Brisk west and south winds.

Fresno's official temperature yesterday was 106, a high point for September, but not as high as the south coast points are enduring. The prediction for today is cooler.

TURCO-BULGARIAN FRONTIER SETTLED

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 17.—Official announcement is made of the settlement of the frontier question between Bulgaria and Turkey in Thrace. The frontier starts at the mouth of the Mariza river, and ends north of Midia on the Black Sea. Turkey retains Adrianople, Demotika and Kirk-Kiliseh, while Bulgaria retains Tirmova, Mustapha Pasha and Orakli. An agreement has been reached on the subject of nationalities.

An ironical note is struck in one clause of the protocol to the effect that the provisions of the treaty of London, not modified by the present protocol shall remain binding on both parties.

At the conclusion of Murdock's speech, Representative Wingo announced that he would demand tomorrow separate votes on amendments and the bill. The Democrats paid little heed to the "warning," and the vote stood 104 to 33 for the amendment.

COLLISION WITH WHALE DISABLES A STEAMER

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 17.—A collision with a whale caused such serious damage to the Danish steamer Wladimir Reitz that the vessel was forced to put in here today for repairs.

The accident occurred Monday afternoon, about 250 miles east of St. John's. The crew of the steamer saw the whale approaching at terrific speed but could not alter the ship's course in time to prevent the impact. The whale struck the steamer head-on, knocking a four foot hole in the bow.

The accident is believed to have killed the whale, which sank immediately, its blood discoloring the water over a large area.

BURGLAR RETURNS VACATION MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Fred Mayfield, who lends a cigar stand in an office building, saved vacation money in a sealed cigar box that had a slot cut in the lid. The place was robbed and a newspaper devoted five lines of publicity to the burglary and to the fact that Mayfield's vacation was off. The burglar read the paper and Mayfield received a letter today returning the stolen vacation money. Mayfield counted $16 in currency that the burglar contained. "I didn't know that it was that much, but I guess I did," he said.

BRIEF OPPOSING NEW TRIAL FOR DYNAMITERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The government, 730 page brief giving reasons why the judgments of the United States district court at Indianapolis, Ind., in the cases of the twenty-eight convicted "labor dynamiters" should be affirmed, was filed today in the United States circuit court of appeals by United States District Attorney Charles W. Miller of Indianapolis. The date of hearing will be set by the court at the October term.

GHOST OF "FREE SILVER" PALES DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Proposal to Insure Single Standard Causes Frenzy In Congress

BOSS FIRM FOR GOLD
Amendment Brought In to Sure of "Sanity"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—An electric hour revolt from the will of the caucus and the leadership of the banking and currency committee spread among Democrats of the House tonight when the administration currency bill was within the shadow of the final vote upon its passage. It threatened for a time to reach serious proportions, but the party leaders finally got the situation in hand again.

Chairman Glines of the committee and other leaders who sided with him, were plainly worried and their predicament afforded unexpected amusement to the Republicans and particularly to Progressive Leader Murdock. The revolt lasted through many speeches on the Democratic side, several from across the aisle and one vote on which more Democrats deserted the committee than had left its standard on any of the mooted questions brought up before.

An amendment of Representative Foss of Ohio designed to maintain all legal money at a parity and insure the retention of the gold standard caused all the trouble. Some Democrats confessed to him in a revival of the old "free silver" fight, and openly charged that the committee in endorsing such an amendment was offering a "gratuitous insult" to four-fifths of the Democratic party. This issue they pointed out was settled sixteen years ago.

"I AM AN HONEST MAN."
Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi was the first to announce that with such an amendment tucked to the bill he would bolt the caucus and vote against it.

"I never will vote for it," he shouted, "for I am an honest man."

"I challenge the right of the committee to bring in such an amendment," said Representative Wingo.

"Somebody is playing politics and trying to annihilate four-fifths of the Democratic party. It is useless. It is childish. Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan I talked with Mr. Bryan tonight—want this amendment."

Representative Murray of Oklahoma declared that it was an insult to Democrats to endorse such an amendment.

"I want to say now," he shouted, walking toward the Democratic committee table, "that the people of this country will not follow you to the polls next November on this issue."

Representative Sherley poured oil on the troubled waters only to have them stirred again. He later later Representative Murdock. Sherley said that the amendment could do no harm and might do good, and that it was time for Democrats to forget what was behind and reckon what was before.

Republicans are playing politics with you," was the taunt of Murdock. "They are trying to separate you on the amendment and put you Democrats on record. It's a trap that they are asking you to walk into—if you want to walk into it, go ahead."

At the conclusion of Murdock's speech, Representative Wingo announced that he would demand tomorrow separate votes on amendments and the bill. The Democrats paid little heed to the "warning," and the vote stood 104 to 33 for the amendment.

TO TAKE VOTE TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The administration currency bill will be passed by the House and sent to the Senate tomorrow. In order to complete the detailed consideration of the measure and have nothing but the formal vote for the bill tomorrow, the House sat tonight and concluded the voting on proposed amendments.

Republicans and Progressives concentrated their fight today on amendments. No material changes were made in the bill.

Republicans and Progressives concentrated their fight today on amendments offered to the note issue section of the bill, which the Democrats disposed of with a rolling chorus of "noes," monotonously repeated. Sixteen amendments proposed from the minority side of the aisle were voted down in rapid succession. No material changes were made in the bill.

The attack was directed principally at the provision making the federal reserve notes proposed to be issued through the federal reserve banks government obligations. The Republicans declared this and a provision making the notes payable in "gold and lawful money" were a return to "greenbackism" and declared that Secretary Bryan had written into the bill the monetary theories "for which he has contended since 1898."

The committee proposed and the House voted to amend the bill to prevent the federal reserve banks from engaging in a commercial business in competition with the banks which are forced to supply the capital upon which the reserve banks will operate.

No obstructive tactics were resorted to by the opposition in the bill and the reading of the measure for amendment went along smoothly.

RED TAPE SHUTS GRAY FROM PARADE

But Confederates Take Exclusion In Good Part and Comradere Continues

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 17.—Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the forty-seventh annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic prevented today the N. H. Forest Camp of United Confederate Veterans from participating in the parade. Clad in their gray uniforms the Southerners were preparing to form in the line of march with Forsythe Post No. 15 of Toledo, Ohio, when they were informed of the order.

An invitation to join in the parade had been tendered Colonel L. T. Dickinson, commander of the Forest camp, by Colonel Henry N. Hanson, commander of the Forsythe Post. Just when they were ready to take the places, Colonel Hanson informed Colonel Dickinson that the commander of the Department of Ohio, Colonel W. R. Wainwright, had been instructed to bar everyone from the parade except Union veterans. Colonel Dickinson expressed deep regret over the incident. The Confederate veterans also appeared distressed but as they marched quickly back to their headquarters they were greeted with cheers by the Union veterans.

In a statement tonight Colonel Dickinson said: "We regretted the incident very much, but I believe our comrades, and especially those in the Forsythe Post were even more distressed. We hold no ill feeling toward the rank and file of the boys in blue. The boys in blue are with us and for us and we are with them and for them. To show that there is no hard feeling against any of them, we are tendering an invitation to visit our camp tomorrow night. This invitation is to the rank and file of the boys in blue."

The following explanation regarding the incident was made in a statement tonight by Commander-in-Chief Alfred E. Beers of the G. A. R.:

"I did not know that an invitation had been extended to the Confederate veterans to take part in the parade and never heard that there was any intention of extending an invitation to the N. H. Forest Camp, U. C. V. It was certainly not intended by headquarters, nor was the permission of headquarters asked to extend such an invitation, nor was the endorsement of such an invitation by headquarters asked."

The Forest Camp of Confederate Veterans was excluded in accordance with general order issued Sept. 12, 1912, barring all persons from the parade except G. A. R. members. This order was based on a custom which has been observed in the past.

In addition to this, the Confederate camp was not excluded because its members were from Confederate soldiers, but because it is the policy of the Grand Army of the Republic to have only its members in the parade with the exception of Sons of Veterans who were officially invited to act as escorts."

Fully 12,000 Union survivors of the Civil War marched through the streets of Chattanooga today in the parade. In the face of a steady rain the veterans marched between human walls of cheering spectators along the entire route.

Other events in connection with the encampment were a reproduction of the battle of Missionary Ridge this afternoon and a Grand Army camp fire at the city auditorium tonight.

DIGGS, 2 YEARS; CAMINETTI 18 MONTHS

The court then pronounced sentence. The attorneys for the defense explained that the defendants would prefer to make their appeal at McNeill Island rather than to San Quentin, the first penitentiary designated, on the ground that there they would not be thrown in with the common criminal class and further that, after serving their terms, they would have a better chance to restore themselves to standing in general society. The court granted the request subject to the approval of the department of justice at Washington.

CAMINETTI'S OBJECTION.
"I have no criticism to offer and no complaint to make at this time," said Judge Van Fleet. "I wish only to make this observation, respectfully, in passing sentence. Judge Van Fleet said that our act was not as grave as that of a man or woman who would transport a girl from one state to another for the purposes of gain by prostitution. He held that we did not do that and gave it as a reason for arriving at the judgment he pronounced."

"Yet he sent me to jail for eighteen months and assessed a fine of $1,500 and sent Diggs away for two years with a fine of $2,000 when, I am certain, a real white slaver, recently convicted in this same court, who had placed her in a house of prostitution here for purposes of gain, was sentenced to a term of six months and fined only $250. I simply cite this case and make no comment."

Having been convicted on four counts, Diggs received the heaviest sentence. Caminetti was convicted on only one count.

The usual motions for a new trial and for arrest of judgment were denied. Judge Van Fleet did grant, however, a stay of execution for ten days, during which the defendants will be out on bail fixed at $15,000 and $10,000 respectively, while their counsel are preparing an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals for a writ of habeas corpus, which, if granted, would entail new trials.

HISTORY OF OFFENSE.
The offense charged was that the defendants transported Martha Warrenington and Lola Norris from Sacramento to Reno for immoral purposes. Both girls testified for the prosecution and both wives for their husbands.

At no time did the defense attempt to deny that the acts charged had been committed. Its effort was to show that there had been no criminal intent, that the allotment to Reno was an "escape" to which the men and the girls alike were driven by fright of scandal and threats of their families.

The four fled to Reno early in the morning of March 10, were arrested in Reno March 14, brought back to Sacramento and the men were locked up in the Sacramento county jail on a felony charge of rape. They were released three days later on $10,000 bail.

The case then hung fire until April 13, when Diggs and Caminetti were indicted by the federal grand jury. Prosecution lagged and the case jumped suddenly into national notoriety when John L. McNabb, the United States attorney in charge of the government's case, resigned, charging in an open letter to President Wilson that political influence was being brought to bear on the attorney general to prevent the case from coming to trial.

McNabb's resignation was accepted by the President. In a brief note reminding him for breach of discipline, Special prosecutors were named and the case finally came to trial on August 5.

Governor Also Appoints
Board To Inquire Into Immigration Question

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—Governor Johnson today appointed the members of the State Industrial Welfare commission that is to investigate, under the new minimum wage law, wage conditions of women and minors in California and report back to the next legislature.

Frank J. Murasky, superior judge of San Francisco; Mrs. Catherine Phillips Edson, a leading clubwoman of Los Angeles, president of the Woman's Federation; R. C. Dohmann of San Francisco, of the firm of Nathan Dohmann; A. Bonhomme of Sacramento, a banker and merchant; Walter Matthews, secretary of the building trades council of San Jose, and a city trustee, are the members. Mrs. McGowan and Matthews are representatives of the labor interests. Bonhomme and Dohmann are of the employers. The governor also named the immigration commission consisting of: State Senator J. C. McLaughlin, Mr. J. G. Thompson of Los Angeles, Roy W. Johnson of San Francisco, and Arthur H. Fleming of Los Angeles and Paul Selvarongher, labor man of San Francisco. Both committees are non-partisan.

W. H. Thompson, who was appointed superior judge of Orange county, a newly created position.

FATHER AND SON CHARGE BLACKMAIL.

Widney Denies That He Received Money From

Miss Noel Murphy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Denying all of the statements made by Miss Noel Murphy, A. B. Widney, of Los Angeles, charged by the girl with a violation of one of the state's anti-seducer laws, accused her of perjury when he took the stand in his own behalf at the preliminary examination.

He stated emphatically that he never received money from her and that her story was made out of whole cloth for reasons which she knew best.

Judge Robert E. Widney, who is conducting his son's case, took the stand as the young man's defense today, told of his character and stated to Judge Shortall that the Murphy woman's charge was one of a long series of prosecutions that had come since his other son, Robert E. Widney, Jr., was shot and seriously wounded several months ago while occupying the same living quarters with Miss Vivian Lyons of this city.

Mary E. Vaughn, who has represented herself in the case as acting in the interests of a woman political league, was charged by Judge Widney with having approached him for money in the case. He said that he gave her a note for $500, which she subsequently returned to him with a request for $5,000.

District Attorney Charles M. Fickert announced in court that he would lay Judge Widney's story before the grand jury tomorrow night and ask for an indictment of the Vaughn woman.

VIENNESE LAUNDRESS IS TO BE DEPORTED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Clara Melcher, the Viennese laundress who charged that Prince Sulkowski of Austria, induced her to come here to the United States for immoral purposes, left Los Angeles today in the custody of federal officers who said she would be deported from some part of the Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Melcher recently told her story to the federal grand jury, barring her alleged relations with Prince Sulkowski, who was married in Los Angeles several weeks ago to Miss Marie Louise Fresno, a wealthy heiress of this city, and who is now in the Orient with his bride.

Federal authorities hinted that an indictment against the prince would be returned here in the course of a few days.

SCHOOL POPULATION

The evening paper has taken with absurd seriousness a semi-facetious article in yesterday's Republican in which the population of Fresno figured out to be anything from sixty-three to eighty-nine thousand. Of course everybody knows that the actual population is far below any of these figures, and the purpose of the article was to point out the somewhat startling conclusion which would follow mathematically from an application of the same multiple as that which had been used in all seriousness in San Francisco.

However, while nobody pretends that Fresno is approaching eighty or even sixty thousand in population, the very existence of figures which could be made to compute even an apparent result of that sort, indicates that Fresno is at least ahead in something. We actually do have the school population which by the multiple used elsewhere would justify this conclusion. The point, of course, is not that we have such an enormous population, but that we do have a very exceptional proportion of our population in school. As against San Francisco, this difference, is of course in part accounted for by the fact that fully one-third of the school children in San Francisco attend parochial schools, while in Fresno nearly all attend the public schools. But Fresno's school population is proportionately very large, even as compared with other cities in which practically all the children who attend any school attend the public schools. There is no place in California, which probably means nowhere in the world, where the compulsory education law has been enforced so thoroughly and so long as in Fresno. The result is not merely that our children all go to school, but that we have a whole school generation now in attendance all of whom have been in school from the beginning under this same rule of universal enforcement of the law. This affects the attendance in the upper grades, which are growing in Fresno proportionately much faster than the lower grades. Fresno's children all go to school and they will stay in school until they are fourteen years old. A very unusual proportion remain for several years after this. It is doubtful if there is another community of any considerable size anywhere with so large a proportion of its total population actually in school. Under such conditions all multiples fall or lead to absurd conclusions. But the conditions are extremely fortunate and augur well for the future civilization of this community.

SECOND DEGREE

Judge Van Fleet, in his sentence of Diggs and Caminetti, practically construed into the law a first and second degree of the offense defined in the Mann act, and held Diggs and Caminetti guilty of the second degree of offense. The peculiarly aggravating circumstances surrounding the particular actions of these culprits put them morally on a par with those guilty of the first degree offense. This is probably the only reason why it was so easily possible to convict them at all. Nevertheless, in the substance of things, the two degrees of guilt do exist, and Judge Van Fleet's action in practically establishing a second degree may very possibly have saved this portion of the law entirely. If no distinction had been made between the offense of commercialized white slavery and the non-commercialized debauchery to which both parties consent, there might have been a movement in Congress to amend the law so as to omit the latter variety of wrong from its application. That would have been a distinct step backward, and it is for that reason perhaps fortunate that Judge Van Fleet, by an exemplary and yet comparatively light sentence, considering the individual heinousness of the case, has removed all temptation toward taking this step. The law against the transporting of girls for private debauchery, even with their consent, will stand, but it will be understood that the Jew partner of a lewd girl's willing wrong is guilty of the second degree of the crime, of which the actual white slave is guilty of the first degree.

Perhaps the most impressive part of Judge Van Fleet's sentence is his arraignment of the circumstances which make such things possible. Parents are responsible when they allow young girls to go and come at all hours of the day and night without inquiry of their whereabouts or company. Society is responsible when it allows saloons, dives, and rendezvous to continue to exist and harbor such associations as this trial showed to have taken place in the Sacramento establishments of this sort. The moral sense of both Diggs and Caminetti was debased by drink, and Judge Van Fleet does not hesitate to include, without qualification, "saloons" among his list of other and unusually more discreditable resorts. Judge Van Fleet is no crank or long-haired reformer, and he was speaking in San Francisco, where until recently the saloon was so sacred an institution that no public man dare refer to it except with bated breath and deference. Probably saloons will continue to exist in San Francisco for a long time to come, but the time has already arrived when they are publicly recognized as vicious institutions, to be tolerated, if at all, only as temporarily ineradicable evils.

BAND CONCERTS

The announcement that the project is under consideration for winter band concerts in the convention hall raises a question of policy which will have to be determined by the city government with respect, not merely to this, but to many other problems. That convention hall ought to be made useful to the greatest possible extent for public entertainments, and there could be no better beginning than these weekly band concerts. Also, there can be no objection to a nominal charge of 10 cents for admission to the concerts. The charge will not be a burden; it will make it easier for the city to finance the entertainments, and it will probably improve the crowd by giving it a certain sense of responsibility in the matter. Nevertheless, it is doubtful if even for so small a charge as 10 cents the public convention hall ought to be turned out for merely private exploitation. Just as a suggestion, and not necessarily as a conclusive conviction of policy, how would it do for the city to continue the concerts, which it now helps subsidize in the Courthouse Park, as a city enterprise in the Rowell Auditorium and have the city charge the 10 cents? Then, if the revenues should not be sufficient for the expenses, the city could meet, or arrange with the county to share the deficit. The loss in any case would not be great or if it were it would indicate that the concerts were not sufficiently popular to justify their continuation. It would be better for the city to stand a small loss than to make it a matter of private speculation. On the other hand, if there were a profit the city could accumulate that surplus either as a fund for the summer concerts or as a means of giving extra concerts without charge during the winter.

This suggestion of band concerts is also a reminder that other forms of public entertainment might be planned. A men's chorus has recently been formed. It might be possible to enlarge that chorus into a mixed chorus and to prepare and give some time later in the winter one of the standard oratorios at popular prices. The State Music Teachers' Association would co-operate towards providing other high grade musical entertainments at an almost nominal cost. Music is, of course, only one of the forms of popular entertainments, and there are other suggestions that might be made. But these are enough to indicate some of the possibilities of the auditorium and the importance of establishing a policy under which the hall by merely nominal charge may be able to pay its own way without at the same time turning it over too freely for private speculation or profit.

FATALLY BURNED
IN FOREST FIRE

Devastation Continues In Several Counties In South of State

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Dr. Charles Anderson, a retired major of the United States army, was fatally burned by forest fires which today swept over a synchro canyon on the Santa Barbara road. He was alone at the time in his mountain cottage, which was destroyed. The fire did little property damage although they swept over an area of 200 acres. The flames were under control in two hours by a force of fire fighters led by forest rangers. A second fire swept two miles through the Hope ranch to the west of Santa Barbara. The direction of the wind saved the Porter country club.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Several ranch houses and ranch buildings were reported destroyed by the forest fires which still rage in Tehama canyon. The army of fire fighters suffered intensely from the combined heat of the fires and the blistering winds.

These burning fires in the hills 20 miles north of Los Angeles reported the R. Charleston, supervisor of the Angeles forest, remained at the head of the forest rangers and rangers battling the flames.

SAN LEO, Sept. 17.—Four great forest brush fires are burning all day long tonight. One is between Foster and Ramona. Another is burning toward Escudido. A third is east of Campo and below the Mexican line and still another is sweeping up Mission Valley. Poway is surrounded by the fire, but the town is thought to be safe. All of the houses of Poway have been fighting the flames. Reports of the situation are meagre, but indicate that efforts to check the fires have thus far failed.

SHOT BY HIGHWAYMAN,
SUES UNITED RAILWAYS

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Sept. 17.—If a passenger on a street car, confronted by a highwayman, offers resistance and is shot, to what extent is the railway company responsible for the patron's injuries? This question will be threshed out in the trial of a suit that has been filed against the United Railroads Company of San Francisco in the Superior Court here by Charles M. Kirkbride, city attorney of San Mateo. Kirkbride sues $10,000 damages for a wound he received a year ago when he gave battle to a lone robber on the San Mateo line near Easton. While other passengers were being searched by the robber, Kirkbride leaped upon him. The hand, however, jerked away and shot Kirkbride in the back. Kirkbride claims that the company's employees were negligent in permitting the bandit to board the car, and that the company was made a party to the crime when the robber forced the conductor to let him relieve the passengers of their valuables.

The
WORLD'S MYSTERIESMYSTERIES of ANTIQUITYWHEN WAS THE DATE OF THE CRUCIFIXION?

Like so many incidents in connection with the life of our Saviour from the time of his birth to the day of his crucifixion, burial and resurrection, the date of the crucifixion is a matter of controversy. The Hebrews were always celebrated on the fourteenth day of the month next following the solar ingress into the first degree of Aries, the vernal equinox, and it must always, by the law, be celebrated on the fourteenth day of the month, as shown in the calendar calculated by the priesthood.

In the Julian year 74 the sun entered Aries at 5:28 P. M. March 22, which was a Tuesday. The new moon following was at 7:19 P. M. April 5, a Saturday. The full moon, then, falling on the seventeenth at 7:41 A. M., shows Terentian, the Latin historian, to have been correct in affirming that the Passover feast was on the eighteenth of the calendar of April.

Again, the same authority says "Modern ecclesiastical authorities on chronology find it impossible to assume that Christ was born later than A. D. C. and Terentian clearly states the nativity occurred in the forty-first year of the Augustan monarchy and the twenty-eighth after the death of Cleopatra. Thus, Christ must have been thirty-three years old at the time of his crucifixion, for his ministry began the third year before his crucifixion.

The 15th of March, in the year 31 A. D., is the date that Christian tradition—whatever value, whether much or little, be ascribed to it—appears to point as the date of the crucifixion. The Captivity has been tentatively placed in A. D. 28-27; the length of the ministry has been fixed, with some approach to certainty, at between two and three years, and this, too, would bring the resultant date for the crucifixion and the Passover of A. D. 29.

The great trouble that has been experienced in the settling of this date is to know definitely which moon or month was reckoned, each year as the moon or month of Nissan, and if it could be definitely decided exactly on what day that particular moon or month was reckoned as beginning it would be possible to tell in which of the years, 28-32 A. D. years between which the authorities place the crucifixion, Nissan 14 fell on a Friday.

The difficulty with regard to the month is to know how the commencement of the Jewish year was fixed in what year an extra month was interpolated before Nissan. If the Jewish full moon was reckoned as beginning on what day that particular Spring equinox was reckoned as beginning, the first after the earliest years of the barley harvest would be ripe, it would have varied with the forwardness or backwardness of the season from year to year. The difficulty as to the day is, quite similarly, to know what precise relation the first day of the Jewish month bore to the astronomical new moon. In later Christian times, the Paschal things, all months, were reckoned to begin at the first sunrise when the new moon was visible, which in the most favorable circumstances would be some hours, and in the most unfavorable three days later than the astronomical new moon. Direct material for answering the question when and how far astronomical calculations replaced simple observations as the basis of the Hebrew calendar is not forthcoming, and that is why Biblical scholars are unable to set the date for the crucifixion beyond all question.

CALWA WILL HEREAFTER BE KNOWN OFFICIALLY BY U. S. AS CALWA CITY

A communication was received here from the Postal authorities at Washington, D. C., yesterday stating that the name of the town of Calwa, which is located four miles south of here, had been officially changed by the federal government to Calwa City. This action was taken by the government because the postal department wanted to establish a post office there, but would not do so as long as the town was called Calwa because it was liable to conflict with Calwa in the forwarding of mail.
About the first of the year the residents of Calwa petitioned the postal department for a post office under the name Calwa. They refused to grant the request on the above grounds but they would establish a post office there if the name was changed so that it would not conflict with Calwa, which is located just south of San Francisco in San Mateo county.
The townspeople then asked that a post office be established there under the name of Calwa City.
This request has just been granted according to the communication that was received yesterday by Saunders & Leas from Fourth Assistant Postmaster James S. Blacklee.
It is understood that the post office will be opened there about October 1. Arrangements are now being made for the installing of the needed equipment.

IN THE LODGE ROOM

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
The rank of knight was conferred on A. Puhler at the meeting of Fresno Lodge No. 133, Knights of Pythias, last night in the presence of a goodly delegation from Progressive Lodge No. 309 and a chosen few of the members of 133. The work of the rank was being highly commended by the lookouts.
Promulgation and formal for the trip to "Blind" where the "rank" of knight will be conferred on a large class by the local lodges at some date in the near future.

PERSONAL MENTION

Deputy Sheriff George Kruger and his wife and little daughter have returned from their vacation spent in Oakland. Supervisor M. D. Hoffman has gone to the mountains for a fortnight to look after his sheep grazing in the forest reserves, also to look into road matters in anticipation of the rainy season.
V. H. Hickey, attorney at law, Los Angeles; Wm. R. Shaw, manager Pacific Coast Law and Collection Co., Los Angeles; Jos. McGuire and Jas. Gormley, chauffeur, drove up from Los Angeles yesterday. Attorney Hickey has two criminal cases and one civil case coming up in court this week. Mr. Shaw is on a business trip representing the Pacific Coast Law and Collection Co. The party are stopping at the Fresno Hotel and expect to return to Los Angeles Saturday.

LOCAL BREVITIES

W. B. Ritchie appeared before Police Judge Briggs yesterday and pleaded not guilty to a charge of defrauding an insurance company.
Mrs. Elizabeth W. Berry yesterday sued Horace W. Berry for divorce, charging desertion and failure to provide. Kelle and Thomson are her attorneys.
E. E. Slaght, a woman, wanted in Los Angeles on a bench warrant, was arrested yesterday in Clovis by Deputy Sheriff Bottorff and lodged in the county jail last night.
Dr. Marie Arysteguy as the guardian of the two infant children applied yesterday to Judge Austin for leave to borrow $2,500 on three lots in city block 40 owned by the minors.
Jesse, the 12-year-old son of W. W. Coates, a deputy sheriff, will be laid to rest this afternoon in Mountain View cemetery following funeral services at 2:30 at Stephens & Bean's chapel.
George Richel, lodger in an I street rooming house, has reported to the police that his room was burglarized Tuesday night and $200 stolen. He gave the police the name and description of a man he suspected.
Investigation yesterday revealed the fact that the residence of J. A. Stebbins at 132 Van Ness avenue, was damaged to the extent of $2,000 by fire Tuesday night in place of $500 as estimated at the time of the blaze.
Attorney C. V. Richards of Los Angeles is in Fresno for the trial today before Judge Church of a case before a special jury venire. He is also associated with Attorney Eichen and Honesty in the preparation of the defense of the female Perrotti extradited from Montreal, having last been acquitted here by Attorney L. H. Smith in the trial of the late Ditt of Modern resulting in acquittal. Alleged accessory to a murder in Michigan.

DUCKS AND SWANS PUT ON CITY JOB

They Will Keep Algae and Scum Down In Roeding Park Lakes

The park commissioners have discovered that ducks and swans may be put to a practical use so they will give a permit and will recommend well-footed birds a city job to keep down the algae and the scum in the artificial lakes at Roeding Park, the water in which for lack of drainage facilities is not freshened as often perhaps as necessary to keep down the aquatic growths and scum accumulations. The birds will act as auxiliary helpers to the corp in the ponds to keep down the algae by stirring up the bottom. The effort to keep down the scum in the lakes has been by throwing in blue stone into the water.
The commissioners paid an inspection visit to the park yesterday forenoon, spending three hours in going over the city's big playground. Besides the periodic drainage of the lakes, by pumping, the decision was made to place two dozen quackers on the lakes to reinforce them later with swans as bird life features as well as for their practical services in keeping the lake beds stirred up.
The commissioners will also report favorably on a 2500 shed for the storage of tools and implements to be erected near the lagoon but to be screened from light by rustic trellis work, also to make interior changes in the superintendent's bungalow to permit of a more comfortable winter occupancy and to lay out various walks, especially in the vicinity of the traction company's waiting station. The company will be required to take up the piled soil border about the station house so that the immediate vicinity can be parked and the basalt black and concrete station house itself be covered over with vines and flowers.
The commission has further resolved to replace the fastened down wooden settles about the park with some 300 concrete benches, each seating four persons, the weight and material of these benches being guaranteed that they will not be moved about where not desired and that the vandal visitor will not in time whittle them away.

How To Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders. Stops Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.
Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple, old-fashioned home recipe consisting of: Three parts of Lavana (the common), three parts of Bay Rum (the common), and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes will restore your hair to its natural color, and will make it soft, fluffy, and healthy. Try it just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavana, 6 oz. Bay Rum and 2 oz. Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in an 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavana, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a small cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. Thus cleanse the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair soft, fluffy, and healthy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips of a medium stiff brush. Apply it to the hair and scalp. A few days' use and you cannot find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked off your scalp as tight as a vice. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. In ten days you will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and the new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.
Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain of the result.

powerful drama of "The Lure", which deals with the White Slave Traffic and which has scored the first big dramatic success of the present New York season, Stanley W. Finch, chief of the federal bureau for the suppression of the White Slave Traffic, has declared that this drama is doing a most needed service in the crusade against one of the worst evils of our modern national life. The figures which he gives are startling and terrible concerning White Slavery in the United States. According to this highest authority in the land, two-thirds of the girls who enter evil life are innocent girls, who have become the victims of white slavers. The average annual crop of these innocent victims is twenty-five thousand girls. There are 50,000 "man-thorns" and "cadets" in the United States whose sole business is the entrapping of girls into white slavery. "Many of the victims come from good families," remarks Mr. Finch, "and were originally abducted by white slavers. No girls, no matter how well brought up and well safeguarded, is safe from white slavers in this country at the present time. The more innocent a girl is the more likely she is to fall into the clutches of a cadet. Not a day passes but five or six white slave cases are reported at police headquarters in big cities." Concerning the revenue obtained by this horrible commerce, Mr. Finch makes clear how its profits tempt these white slavers to pursue their execrable calling. According to his investigations, one hundred millions of dollars a year are realized as profits by these cadets and madams. The White Slave victims are "broken in" in 10-cent and 21 houses frequented only by foreigners in large cities. The gross earnings of a white slave vary from $25 to $200 a week, one half of which goes to her owner (the cadet who has ruined her or lured her into the trap) and one half to the madam who holds her in slavery. In the play of "The Lure" not only are the cadet and the madam depicted in their true colors and their young girl victims shown in their terrible slavery, but the corrupt politician, who is sometimes the silent partner in this unspeakable traffic, is also exposed and made an impressive figure. Although running in crowded houses at the Maxine Elliott theater, New York, where its run will undoubtedly last throughout the year, "The Lure" is now brought to California and will be seen, among other cities, at the Barton next Saturday evening. The seat sale is now open.

WILL REORGANIZE CARRIER SERVICE

Postmaster Hughes Is to Improve City Delivery
System Soon

In order to equalize the work of carriers and give the public better service, a complete reorganization of Fresno's mail delivery system will be effected within a few days, according to the statement of Postmaster Earle Hughes yesterday afternoon. In company with Frank Curdwell, superintendent of mails, Postmaster Hughes made a thorough inspection of the 21 city routes yesterday afternoon and found conditions not of the best.

Four new carriers were recently added to the local delivery force, but with the exception of one these men went to work on new routes, covering districts which had not been served by the local postal carrier service before.

A number of the old routes, more notably the downtown routes through the business district, carry such a quantity of mail that at certain seasons of the year it is impossible for one man to give his route adequate service.

There is no immediate prospect of more carriers. In the opinion of Postmaster Hughes, therefore, the other carriers will have to be shifted.

A number of carriers in the residential section have not been carrying a great quantity of mail and it is Hughes' idea to distribute the work more equally. Whether or not he will interchange the residential and commercial districts at different periods is not known, as no definite plan has been worked out as yet.

DUCK SEASON OPENS OCT. 15; CLOSES JANUARY 15

Federal Law Causes Confusion of Dates in Sportsmen's Minds
Fish and Game Commission To Rigidly Enforce New Game Laws

Duck season opens October 15, and closes January 15.

A. D. Ferguson, district fish and game commissioner, is emphatic on this point. Owing to the recent enactment of a Federal law, sportsmen have become confused regarding the dates of opening and closing.

"The working of the state and federal laws is peculiar," said Ferguson yesterday. "The state may shorten the time specified by the federal government but the state cannot lengthen the time. Federal laws provide that the duck season shall open October 1 and close January 15. State laws provide that the season shall open October 15, and close March 1. The state is not allowed to lengthen the open season over the federal law, therefore, the duck season this year is from October 15 to January 15. The following bulletin regarding the

EASTMAN BACK FROM BERKELEY CONVENTION

Y. M. C. A. Secretaries Discuss Policy To Be Followed This Year

W. D. Eastman, secretary of the Fresno Y. M. C. A., returned yesterday morning from Berkeley, where he has been attending the annual convention of employed officers of the Y. M. C. A. organizations of the Northern District. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held, according to Eastman.

The policy to be followed by the associations of the Northern District this year, was the principal topic of discussion. Matters relative to the physical department, religious work and the social side of the association were discussed.

Ed. H. Toole, the new physical director, took active charge of the work in Fresno yesterday morning. Before he left Oakland, the men of the Oakland institution presented him with a handsome gold watch. The boys made him a present of a scrapbook, containing pictures of all the summer camps and places visited during the summer, since he had been in charge.

Reginald Louch has been retained as assistant office secretary.

change has been issued by the Fish and Game Commission.

Various erroneous impressions obtained regarding the operation of the Federal law relating to the migratory birds and its application to the fowl of this State and Nevada. This statement is intended as an explanation of the law and the regulations applying thereto.

The United States Department of Agriculture was given jurisdiction over the subject matter of the law and the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to promulgate such regulations necessary for the proper fulfillment of its provisions that he might deem necessary.

Acting under that authority, the Secretary divided the United States into two "zones." The State of California and Nevada occupy the Southern or Second Zone.

Under the regulations the seasons for migratory fowl for the two States are as follows:

OPEN SEASONS.
California—Plover, November 15th to December 15th; snipe, November 15th to December 15th; mall, closed until September 1, 1914; duck, October 1st to January 15th; geese, October 1st to January 15th.

Nevada—Plover, September 15th to December 15th; snipe, September 15th to December 15th; mall, closed until September 1, 1914; duck, September 15th to January 15th; geese, September 15th to January 15th.

The first day of the open season and the first day of the closed season is shown above.

The regulations as given will be effective October 1st unless approved prior to that date by the President. All the regulations have to be approved formally by the President, but that will come as a matter of course.

The Secretary of Agriculture has been given the power to hold hearings with the different Fish and Game Commissions of the several states for the purpose of determining the proper dates for opening and closing of seasons, and when that is done, the apparent conflict between the State laws and the regulations given above will be removed.

However, the present regulations applying to migratory fowl must be closely followed by hunters, for the above regulations will be enforced by the Fish and Game Commission of this State. The State has the power to shorten the season, but cannot lengthen it unless authorized to do so by the Secretary of Agriculture. The hunter must remember that the regulations of the Government are paramount to those of the State and must be followed to the letter.

The State law applying to ducks in the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Seventh Districts, opening the duck season on October 15th, will not be changed by the regulations shown above, except that the season will close January 15th, instead of March 1st.

TWO MEN ARE SAVED FROM DEATH AT SEA

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 17.—Lost on the Pacific for two days without provisions, two Los Angeles men were picked up by the cruiser Buffalo early this morning in the Salto de San Juan, 25 miles south of the Coronado Islands. They gave their names as E. D. Ford and McEllan. They were turned over to the pilot's launch at the entrance to the harbor.

According to their accounts, they sailed from San Pedro for San Diego and lost their way. They were out longer than they expected to be, and their meager supply of provisions failed them.

IT COSTS $1,733,990 TO RUN THE COUNTY FOR ONE YEAR

Report Made Accounting for Total Expenditure of $2,233,798
For Schools Alone Was Spent Over $921,000 and for Roads $358,867

The running of the county government of Fresno has become a big business considered from the financial standpoint. The cost of the actual running of the county for the fiscal year 1913-14 is reported to be $1,733,990, according to the statement of all money transactions filed with the supervisors yesterday by Expert Tukey and Agent Harvey. The total disbursements accounted for are $2,233,798.43, but this figure also includes $500,000 of the city, besides money in the various standing funds.

Starting out with a balance of $476,904.25, the financial operations of the county are figured up for the year as follows:

Receipts.....$2,233,798.43
Disbursements.....$2,233,798.43
Balance.....$ 476,904.25
Warrants out.....426,433

Cash in treasury.....$ 850,134.72
Of this cash balance $122,064.82 represents city money, and much of it is in district and high school special tax and bond redemption money, in fact covering all fund balances on July 1st.

SOURCES OF REVENUE.
Among the items of revenue aside from the larger sums of taxes are these: $30,661.05 from state poll and $17,421.34 from road taxes, $8,874.72 on account of the Sierra Forest Reserve, $1,256.72 on sheriff's fees and fines, $7,783.75 from clerk's fees and fines, $23,210.05 from the recorder, $1,950.74 from hospital pay patients, $1,000.74 from county farm and fair grounds, $8,888.80 as justice court fines, $70,440.10 from street improvement bonds, $207,970.82 as state school appropriation, $25,630.26 for high schools, $8,160.82 state aid for orphanage, $6,907.02 transfer from Tulare and $4,928.14 from Kinan cemetery, 1913 from Kinan cemetery public administrator trust fund $24,431.37 colonial inheritance tax, $4,800.39 interest on county funds.

OFFICE EXPENSES

In the line of disbursement the county contribution to the state on tax settlements was $85,524.52. The cost of the principal legislative offices was: Supervisor's $10,884.30, auditor $5,024.58, treasurer $7,139.63, assessor $24,113.92, tax collector $12,780.74, recorder $23,210.05, coroner $2,867.35, county engineer $12,120.00, purchasing agent $1,565.55, superior court $47,650.00, probate officer $2,385.88, district attorney $8,740.22, sheriff $33,043.25, county clerk $18,484.24.

It is interesting to note that in the Fresno and Tulare counties, justice and two constables headed a city justice as against two justices and two constables in the Coalinga city township the cost of judicial administration was:

2nd township.....$512.42
5th township.....$109.35
Difference.....$203.07

For reporting and transcribing in the courts $740.50 was paid out, $3,168.40 for juror fees and mileage, $124.00 for grand jurors and $48.98 for witnesses, the cost of examination of means was $1,097.47, the humane society received $1812.00 and the law library cost $1604.45 as against fees charged in against litigants amounting to $12,323.55.

FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Over $321,000 was spent on the county's public schools as follows:

Superintendent's office.....$ 7,105.40
County board.....1,730.90
Schools.....$1,234,930.30

ROADS AND OILING

In the department of public works a total of $356,867.24 was spent, made up as follows:

General road.....$ 4241.36
Band Creek road.....2,355.65
Coalinga-Parkfield.....11,444.32
Normal School road.....8,445.00
Road district 1.....43,721.48
Road district 2.....32,076.34
Road district 3.....7,476.72
Road district 4.....17,358.22
Road district 5.....12,224.06
Road oiling, etc.....$2,100.00
Bridges, etc.....$2,869.00

OTHER EXPENSES

In the line of the department of Health and Public Charities expenditures were these: hospital, clinic, home and county farm salaries and labor $18,994.70, provisions and supplies $14,076.80, total $33,071.50, health office $1,391.03, orphanage $5,870.11, county indigent $22,916.64.

The department of horticulture cost $3,160.16, for advertising $4,917.41, water for the court house park and hall in salaries $1,919.05 and for supplies $10,524.37, total of $18,443.42, fair to $25,223.55, remodeling county jail $25,223.55.

TAKES HAT AND COAT FROM MEXICAN THUG

After putting up a stiff fight at midnight, Adolph Frank of Tipton, succeeded in beating off the Mexican who had tried to rob him at F and Kern streets, and brought the Mexican's hat and coat to police headquarters. The would-be strong man man got his hand in Frank's pocket but dropped the coins during the fight. The police are searching for the Mexican.

BRADLEY HAS MANY MISFORTUNES, BUT HE SHOULD WORRY

The "I should worry" smile was on the face of Sergeant Bradley last night while he walked about the streets, checking up the patrolmen, although the previous hours he had gone through enough troubles for a dozen men. In the first place, Bradley stayed out until daylight yesterday morning three miles from Selma watching for the negro who had shot Patrolman Davis. Although the darky had been captured the police had no way of communicating with Bradley. At daybreak Bradley started for Fresno. Within two miles of town his horse dropped dead in his tracks from heart failure, then his hunting dog, valued at $75, ran across the road, was hit by an auto and his neck broken. Upon arriving home Bradley found that his son had mashed a foot by dropping a fruit box, and that three canary birds had died from the heat. "It never rains but it pours," said Bradley last night, "but then it might have been worse."

CALUMNET, Sept. 17.—A detonating cap connected with a piece of wire leading through the door of the powder house of the Mohawk mining company was discovered last night. Manager Hartmann of the Mohawk mine, did not think that there had been any attempt to blow up the powder house but an additional guard was placed about the building which has been closely watched since the beginning of the strike.

SOCIETY

Among the maudlin habits lately acquired by the women patrons of the New York theaters, is the between acts promenade. According to reports, the entrance periods that used to present the appearance of a woman's suffrage meeting now show an almost barren auditorium. Liquid refreshment purveyors in the close vicinity of the theaters draw excellent patronage from women customers, who afterwards saunter up and down Broadway until the signal is given that the curtain is about to go up.

Conventionality is most rigid until some well known leader or group of persons has the courage to break the custom and then like willing sheep they all follow suit with their excuse properly phrased in the modern slang term "Everybody's doing it."

Would that there were in Fresno, someone with the tenacity to take the initiative in this way, for the hot weather period, at least, surely those between act periods are long enough often to warrant a cross country walk, and refreshments of a very substantial nature? Who knows, though, but that it will soon become quite the natural thing for women patrons to ask for their door checks, promenade up and down Fresno street, and return to their seats at the appointed time, refreshed from some cooling beverage, and relieved from the little promenade in the fresh, open air.

Mrs. A. H. Clark and her daughters, Misses George and Eva Clark have returned from a sojourn of some length in San Francisco. The Misses Clark spent the earlier part of the summer in Denver, where they were delightfully entertained by relatives and friends. A number of interesting little side trips were arranged for their pleasure.

Miss Ima Dickinson, the popular fiancée of Carl Walters, is to make the honored guests at a luncheon to be given at the home of Mrs. Harry J. Crawford, will preside, entertaining over a score of friends of the bride-elect at the Sunnyside Country Club. Miss Dickinson returned yesterday from San Francisco, where she has been spending the past fortnight.

Mrs. S. P. Glasgow left on Tuesday night for Peoria, Illinois, where she will visit her mother, who is in ill health. Mrs. Glasgow will spend several months in Peoria.

Mrs. E. D. Ellis has returned to her home in Alameda after a pleasant visit to Fresno with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Alexander.

Mrs. Adolph Schubert has as her guest, Miss Dolly Chapman of Alameda, whose frequent visits to Fresno have endeared her to a number of admiring friends.

The marriage of Miss Gwendolen Graves Barton and Frank Nelson Wright, solemnized yesterday at the Robert G. Barton residence on Flora and Linden avenues, was quite the most interesting event of the week. The romance has been watched with much interest by the friends of the young couple, whose only regret in the pretty culmination was that the ceremony, contrary to original plans, was witnessed only by the relatives of the bride. It was a particularly happy event, however, with only those of closest ties in the little group of a score or over, and the ensuing breakfast, presented the jolliest sort of scene. It was about midday that Mr. and Mrs. Wright departed by automobile, amid the farewell good wishes of the company, their honeymoon tour to take them first to Santa Cruz, where they will spend several weeks at the family summer home there. The night will doubtless be made the only for some charming entertainments on her return, as the early date of her marriage and the absence from town of many of her friends, prevented any of the pre-nuptial festivities that otherwise would have been showered upon them.

Mrs. Geoffrey Bent and little daughter have returned to their home at Smith Mountain, after a pleasant outing of several weeks at Seabright.

Miss Lulu Schultz is at home again, after an extensive tour through the Eastern states. Miss Schultz went East accompanied by Miss Louise Grunwald, whose marriage to Emory C. Lock was celebrated in Springfield, Massachusetts on August 17.

Miss Julia Harris is expected to return home at the latter part of the week, after a delightful month's visit in the bay cities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson left yesterday for Berkeley, where they will participate in an interesting family reunion.

The Golden Hour Circle of the First Presbyterian church will hold its first meeting of the season on Friday afternoon at half past two at the home of Mrs. A. K. Dick. Plans for the winter work will be among the important business of the afternoon.

Mrs. Francis Sherman and her two daughters, Misses Helen and Edith, Sherman, leave this morning for Seattle, Washington, where they will spend a year.

Mrs. Robert McCourt has as her guest for a short while her brother, Mr. W. G. Woodson of Malibu.

The Tuko B. M. Club was very pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. E. L. Bellis at the first of the post-vacation meetings. The afternoon was spent very informally with plans for the winter social work, and exchange of summer acquired ideas among the afternoon's pleasures. The serving of cooling dainties concluded the pleasures of the meeting. Mrs. J. E. Lane will be the club's hostess two weeks hence.

Mrs. C. L. Crowe has returned from a pleasant outing in San Francisco.

An ice cream social is to be featured on Friday evening by the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church of Easton. A program of entertaining numbers is being arranged and an address will be made by Rev. John Oliver of this city.

Pythian Sisters Sewing Club spent a pleasant afternoon yesterday as the guests of Mrs. R. H. Hingley. The

LOAN CORPORATION HAS BIG BOARD OF ADVISERS

G. P. Cummings and Jarvis Streeters Are Members From Fresno Large Grain and Banking Interests Are Behind New Company

The Agricultural Credit Corporation of California, which filed articles of incorporation in San Francisco yesterday will have the assistance of a large advisory board in the prosecution of its business of loaning money to farmers. This corporation is organized for the purpose of making farm loans at a small rate of interest. Its capitalization is $1,000,000.

The members of the advisory board have been selected from the stockholders and are county officials, bankers and leading business men throughout the state. G. P. T. Conroy, a consulting engineer; Charles H. Crocker, president of H. C. Crocker & Co.; W. C. Barnard of Barnard & Barker, dealers in grain; Edwin A. Meserve, a lawyer of Los Angeles.

addition of Mrs. C. E. Don't to the list of members was an interesting feature of the afternoon. Among the visitors for the afternoon were Mesdames E. W. Savage, M. Lindley, M. Wanderhoof, B. M. Peacock Mrs. S. H. Nimis will be the hostess at this meeting Wednesday at her home 382 Popular avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Shepherd were made the guests of honor at a surprise party last night at their home 1040 Central avenue, on the occasion of their eleventh wedding anniversary. The nature of the affair, the entertainment, was purely impromptu, music and games combining in the evening's pleasure. Tempting refreshments were dispensed at a late hour. Among those participating in the surprise were Messrs. and Mesdames W. Gray, T. Wingate, A. Gray, A. White, C. E. Jenkins, Misses N. H. Barnum, E. Johnson, Messrs. Fred Howard, G. Jackson, A. D. Smith, A. B. Berry, B. Wingate.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR WINTER BAND CONCERTS

To Be Given In Auditorium; Admission Fee Of 10 Cents To Be Charged

Conductor Wesley Tilton of the Fresno band stated last night that definite arrangements were now under way for a series of concerts to be given by the local musicians in the Rowell Auditorium during the winter months. It is planned to give one concert every two weeks, and to pay expenses without having to ask the city for aid. It is proposed charging a nominal admission fee of 10 cents to the auditorium.

Tilton said that these concerts would probably be given on Saturday nights, as he believed with the other musicians that the people would rather have them given on that night of the week than any other.

In order to give variety to the program, soloists of various kinds will appear from time to time. Among the solos planned with band accompaniment will be piano, violin, cornet and vocal. All varieties of music will be played, so that the concerts will appeal to all classes of people. There will be classics, popular pieces, favorite overtures and ragtime. Selections from

He was fined $100 or 100 days. Mansfield is doing time as he is without funds. Mansfield pleaded ignorance of the state law. Mansfield had rented the show window in a local drug store and treated corns free of charge. He made the mistake of selling his remedy in front of the store.

from a slaughter house near Kingsburg.

The jury in the case deliberated for five hours upon a verdict. It stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. It came in once during the afternoon to have a lot of the testimony reread. After its discharge, the district attorney said he is prepared to retry the case next week, if it is agreeable to the prisoner.

CONVENTION IN THIS CITY

Want Modification of Sherman Anti-Trust Law; S. F.

Next Meeting Place

Censure Jobbers for Selling
Consignments to Consumers

The California State Retail Hardware Association held its second semi-annual convention in this city yesterday. At the business session in the afternoon resolutions were adopted censuring the practice of jobbers selling consignments to consumers.

The purpose of modifying the Sherman anti-trust law to permit manufacturers to sell their goods directly to consumers was one of the resolutions adopted by the association. Copies of these resolutions were sent to the congressmen from this state urging them to secure the modification of the measure desired. San Francisco was chosen the meeting place of the next convention which will be held in March, 1914.

About 35 delegates attended the convention from places outside of the San Joaquin valley. Practically every large community was represented.

In the morning the delegates who were on hand were taken on a sight-seeing trip around Fresno as the guests of the local hardware association.

Luncheon was served at the Sequoia, after which the officers of the organization went into executive session for a half hour.

This meeting was followed by the regular business session of the association.

RESOLUTION PASSED

At this meeting, C. H. Whitman of Campbell, Santa Clara county, presented the following resolution regarding the prices of re-sale goods which was adopted:

"Believing that the permanent success of every commercial enterprise, as well as the general prosperity of the country is fundamentally based upon the stability of trade conditions; and

"Believing that fixed and uniform prices for all staple products of field and factory would be of the greatest value to all producers and consumers alike; and

"Believing that the time has come to eliminate price cutting and trade gambling from the necessary elements of merchandising and in view of the fact that from the U. S. Supreme Court has handed down a decision the principle of which when applied to such standardized prices as now exist, will render them null and void and make the author a law-breaker;

"Therefore be it resolved by the California State Retail Hardware Association that we favor a National law giving to the manufacturers the right and making it his duty to fix the re-sale prices of his product; and to this end we pledge our endeavor to urge upon the Congress of the United States the passage of such a bill."

COMPLAIN OF JOBBERS

A large banquet was served in the Sequoia, which was the headquarters of the convention, in the evening at which the out-of-town delegates gathered together with the local merchants.

L. M. Mendelsohn welcomed the delegates to this city and expressed the wish that they would return at another time.

In speaking at the business session which followed the banquet, Mendelsohn said that it was the wish of the hardware men of the San Joaquin valley to have the State organization take up the matter of jobbers selling goods to consumers and see if the question could not be eliminated either through a series of conferences or coercion by force of law.

The officers of the association stated that they had been working on the matter of jobbers selling goods to consumers and thus putting hardware dealers through an unnecessary and expensive fight, and that they intended to take it up thoroughly at the next convention of the organization. It is believed that this matter will be settled then.

A special discussion was also held on fire insurance laws and how different insurance companies were in settling of losses that have been sustained by merchants.

"Employers' liability insurance was another matter that took up a great deal of time in discussing pro and con. Most of these matters were referred to the executive committee and will be reported on at the next meeting."

MENU AT BANQUET

The following menu was served at the banquet in the evening:

Punch to brace you up a bit
Assorted salads
Celery olives
Grape fruit, a la rip saw
Concombre interior coach
Surprise leather of sole a la washington
Carrage vermillion (wine)
Bites of noisette potatoes
Incubator de Petaluma gloriana
Pick of new string beans
Mower potatoes
General hardware salad, with harness dressing
White mountain cold storage with Clayton's biscuits
Small black asphaltum
Cigars of ropa de laral
Miss Myrtle Witham sang several solos during the banquet.

DELEGATES PRESENT

Among those present last night were the following: D. P. Appleby, president of the local organization, F. B. Helton, W. P. Byde, L. M. Mendelsohn, C. H. Plann, G. C. Quimby, F. Brown, J. F. BEGIN CLEANING UP
BUILDINGS FOR FAIR

Work On Grounds Rapidly
Nearing Completion; Many Exhibits Ready

Work in connection with the actual staging of the coming Fresno District Fair began in earnest yesterday when a gang of men were put to the task of cleaning out the old pavilion and the other buildings at the grounds. Brooms, shovels, hoes and rakes were busy all day under the direction of General Superintendent R. A. Powell, who has taken up his headquarters on the grounds where he will remain most of the time until the fair closes.

For over a week laborers have been engaged in cleaning the grounds and as a result this is practically completed now. Secretary Cooper will move his office to the grounds the first of the coming week. The decorations have been made and the exhibitors will commence today. Several of the exhibitors have their plans completed and will have their exhibits installed by the middle of next week.

Mrs. E. R. Cox, the superintendent of the art department, spent all of yesterday morning with the carpenters who have been detailed to do the work on her booths. The automobile building is practically completed and work will commence Monday morning on the building to be used by the realty men. Entries in the various departments have begun to come in and every mail adds to the already long list. In the machinery department a number of exhibitors have practically completed their work and will have their wheels turning as soon as the electricity is turned on.

A great deal of interest has been stirred up within the past few days by the announcement of the special prizes in the women's departments, while Superintendent Sorrensen of the educational department, and R. E. Roberts of the agricultural department, report that their day is increasing enthusiasm in their divisions.

President Dickenson is in Sacramento where he is interviewing the stock men who are showing at the State Fair and he reports that his success in inducing these men to exhibit at Fresno has been far greater than he had anticipated. Secretary Cooper will leave Friday morning for a trip down the valley as far as Visalia, Tulare and Hanford to assist in completing the exhibitions promised from these localities.

DEALERS ALLOT SPACE FOR EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Will Have One Large Building
For Display of Automobiles

As a result of the preliminary work which has been done by the committees less than half an hour was consumed last night by the Fresno Auto Dealers Association in completing the plans for the coming district fair exhibition. The important feature of the meeting was the allotment of space and this was made by drawing, with the result that the best space in the building was the last to be lifted from the hat. This went to Peacock-Robbins company while Waterman Brothers, who had the first selection, drew space number 12.

Three new members were elected at last night's meeting which now brings the association up to a total of 15 firms out of a possible 18 in the city. The new members are Rouillard-Browne, Michigan Auto Sales and Peacock-Robbins company. The matter of decorating the building for the show was left to Secretary Cooper of the fair association with instructions to make it uniform throughout.

The outside of the building will carry a large sign reading "Fresno Auto Dealers Association" and this will be the only sign displayed. There will be no individual outside and no attempt will be made by one member against another toward elaborate decorations or entertainment. Green and white will be the color scheme throughout and a quantity of green foliage will be used as a background.

The first show presented by this association are Cobb-Evans Auto Co., Waterman Bros., Don Lee, Niedertraut Motor Car Co., J. C. Phelan, E. W. Johnson, Weaver, Curley & Weaver, Dorris Motor Car Co., Michigan Auto Sales Co., R. M. McKenzie, Peacock-Robbins Co., Rouillard-Browne Co., Pioneer Automobile Co., Oakland Motor Car Co., and the Auto Clearing House.

KINSLEY GUILTY; WILL TRY GIL

Gordon Kinsley, whose true name is said to be Paul Stanley Hayland de Vondo, was found guilty yesterday before Judge Looking in the United States District Court for using mails for fraud and will be sentenced Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Prudence Smith, a reported Fresno girl, and Kinsley's companion, will be tried for operating a fake apron agency through the mail in order to defraud people to secure money for Kinsley's attorney in his fight against the girl. Kinsley conducted a fake perfume agency and kept money sent him by poor-working girls.

WILL SEND LABOR DELEGATE TO MEET

The Fresno Labor Council will be represented at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Seattle-November-10, according to the statement of labor men yesterday. The call for the convention has just been received yesterday. A representative for the convention will be chosen within the next few weeks. The convention is expected to hold over two weeks as a number of matters are to be brought before the delegates. The call was issued by President Samuel Gompers.

BIKE THIEVES ARE GIVEN STIFF JOLTS

Luther Lewis and Lloyd Horn, the youths who stole bicycles from the rear of the city hall early yesterday morning, entered pleas of guilty yesterday in the police court and were sent to jail for 90 and 60 days, respectively. Horn explained that he stole the bike to demonstrate to his friend how sharp a curve he could turn.

POLICE TO VOUCH FOR HIS WOMEN EMPLOYEES

Edward Geldis Accused of Pandering Is Released On Probation

An unusual condition was named yesterday by Judge Austin in the parole obligation of Edward Geldis, who came into court and pleaded guilty to the charge of pandering under the new statute. This condition is that in the conduct of his lodging house he shall have no young women as employees on the premises and only such female employee as shall meet with the approval of the probation officer or the police.

Geldis was accused on the complaint of Beulah Eaton of having induced her in April last to enter his service as a chambermaid in the lodging house at Kern and F streets but later thrown about her such temptations that she yielded to them. He was tried on June 8 but the jury disagreed, and meanwhile Attorney Miles Wallace had been negotiating with the authorities for a release of the accused on probation.

Judge Austin fixed the probation period at 18 months by which time, he said, he expected the abatement law would be in effect throughout the state. As additional conditions of the parole, Geldis must not violate any law and remain in the state within the jurisdiction of the court.

To all these conditions Attorney Wallace agreed for the accused.

SENT TO ASYLUM FOR LIQUOR HABIT

C. W. Hawes Makes Plea for Parole—Wife Sues for Divorce

Despite his earnest assurances that he had the will power to abstain from drink, that he was certain he could curb his appetite and that he was anxious to give proof of his intention and power if paroled, Charles W. Hawes, a turner of Parker, was ordered committed yesterday as a person addicted to the intemperate use of intoxicants and for particular reasons in his case deemed to be at large. Attorney C. W. Traber was not satisfied with this reported finding of Drs. Miller and Hopkins and announced that he would take an appeal by asking to have the question of Hawes' mental condition submitted to a jury. The contested hearing, Dr. Hawes was an unusual case in open court as would be any child for a crime, with Assistant District Attorney Gallagher prosecuting, an attorney detaining the prisoner and two medical men as the jury, before Judge Church. The principal witnesses against Hawes were his wife and Justice of the Peace Schofield of Parker. The testimony agreed that when sober Hawes was an industrious man and as normal as any man, and that financially he has done well having a $10,500 improved ranch though mortgaged. His wife said she is afraid of her life and escapes for safety to the neighbors, also declaring that when on spree he has threatened to burn the house and do her injury. Mrs. Hawes said that his condition is steadily becoming worse.

Justice Schofield showed from his records that Hawes was before him in August, 1912, for disturbance of the peace and drunkenness and paroled for 60 days, again in May, 1913, paroled for 60 days, again in July last, when he was fined $50 and lastly on Saturday when complaint was made for insanity which on Monday was changed to the one under which the hearing proceeded. The evidence was also that during the several probationary periods Hawes' conduct was exemplary. Hawes proved to be of very nervous and excitable temperament. He described himself as a house and portrait painter and said he had lived for twenty-eight years at Pacific Grove without ever having had trouble with anyone. He pleaded for parole declaring that he would demonstrate his ability to curb his appetite for liquor, but also admitted that the past record is against him.

Mrs. Sadie E. Hawes sued for divorce. Harris and Hayhurst are her attorneys. She is the second wife.

Some of the letters bearing London postmarks were signed "Vera," the writer describing herself as "your loving wife." One urged him to come home as he had nothing to fear from "the detectives."

"You can come back in safety if you wear a false moustache and spectacles," another passage in the letter read.

Muret finally admitted under questioning today that he had known Schmidt at least a year. Their acquaintance began when Schmidt consulted him as a patient, he said, and a friendship developed.

Schmidt frequently came to the dentist's office to change from clerical

CONFEREES TO KEEP AGREEMENTS SECRET

Have Been Flooded With Demands for Reopening Of Various Schedules

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Democratic members of the tariff conference committee, now engaged in adjusting differences between the two houses on the tariff bill, decided today not to make public any further agreements until the conference work is completed. Publication of agreements in the last few days has brought many demands upon the conferees for the reopening of certain schedules, and they have decided to maintain silence. Chairman Simmons of the conferees said tonight the work was progressing more rapidly than he expected and he thought a report might be completed by the end of this week. There was a long debate today over the wheat and flour provisions of the bill. House members objecting to the Senate amendment imposing a duty of 10 cents a bushel on wheat coming from a country that levies a duty against wheat from the United States. This question was not settled. A compromise was effected on the automobile schedule by which the low rates fixed by the Senate were increased slightly and an agreement was reached on the glove schedule, reducing somewhat the increases in rates made by the Senate.

garm to citizen's clothes, Muret told the prosecutor. In an earlier statement to Police Captain Henry, Muret admitted according to Henry, that he knew Father Schmidt was making preparations to print spurious bills. "I advised him not to do this," said the dentist, "but he continued his work along this line, not paying the least attention to what I said."

NO OTHER SON HERE

ASCHAFFENBURG, Germany, Sept. 17.—Regarding the reports from New York that Hans Schmidt, the self-confessed murderer and the dentist, Ernest A. Muret, an alleged counterfeiting accomplice, may possibly be brother, Schmidt's father declared today that he had no other son in America. He talked freely of his son's career and said he was known in his Maine seminary days as "the mad doctor." He began to show signs of insanity even when he was a student, he said, and made statements from the pulpit which caused his hearers to laugh loudly.

Schmidt's mother is prostrated by the affair and is pronounced dangerously ill with heart disease.

Bridgework

Only a few years ago a person finding it necessary to have artificial substitutes for lost teeth had no choice but to wear a partial plate. This was the best the dentist could offer. The partial plate was a little better than nothing, but it had many disadvantages. It was uncomfortable, more or less loose in the mouth and left much to be desired. In modern bridgework the patient has an artificial substitute that follows nature closely, and when properly executed by a skilled specialist in this branch of dentistry, is as serviceable and quite as comfortable as good natural teeth.

Whenever you hear some one say that bridgework is not as good as claimed, you can rest assured that it was done by some dentist that had not the requisite skill and experience to do the work properly. Bridgework requires SKILL, EXPERIENCE and the BEST of judgment on the part of the dentist. I have specialized for fifteen years in this branch of dentistry and have acquired an enviable reputation for doing this work as it should be done. My prices are moderate.

FLAG INCIDENT CAUSES PROTEST

Mexicans Demand Severe Punishment for American in Arizona

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Mexican residents here telegraphed today to authorities at Washington protesting against what they termed an inadequate punishment for Young Davis, the American cowboy, who confessed to tearing down a Mexican flag at Pirlleville yesterday. The Arizona state authorities also were asked to take up the case.

Davis was assessed a nominal fine on a charge of malicious mischief. Constable Reese of Pirlleville, also arrested in connection with the case, was found not guilty.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Venustiano Carranza, Coahuila's insurgent governor and commander-in-chief of the revolution, was in Sinaloa today, said private advices received tonight. He was expected to reach Hermosillo, the Sonora capital late this week. He will inspect the insurgent troops tomorrow at Cruz de Piedra, Sonora, gradually moving north toward Hermosillo.

NO MOVE TO BE MADE BY BRYAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—So far as the Washington administration is concerned, it became known tonight, no move is contemplated in the Mexican situation at present.

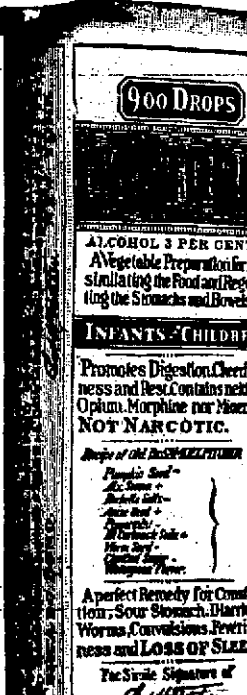

The references to the expiration of the period during which American warships were authorized to remain in Mexican waters caused some discussion. Inasmuch as the ships are permitted to remain another month, or until after the general elections are held, no statement of policy in this connection is likely to be made until that time. Informally officials let it be known that the United States will keep in Mexican waters indefinitely if the United States deemed it necessary for the protection of its citizens.

Secretary Bryan sent a cablegram to John Lind at Vera Cruz advising him of the government's view of the Huerta message, but the contents of the dispatch were not disclosed.

Huerta's declaration that he hoped to turn over the ad interim government to a successor while not giving any direct information as to his intention not to be a candidate strengthened the belief here that he would not figure in the coming elections. These points may be the basis for the resumption of negotiations but the United States does not intend to go forward with them unless the Mexican authorities are disposed to reopen the parleys.

WILL ELECTION BE HELD?
In some quarters here there is a strong disposition to doubt whether there will be a constitutional election on October 24. Constitutionalists point out that with the election only a month away nobody knows who the candidates are or what their platforms will be.

Should an election be held, the attitude the United States would take is doubtful. Recognition under no circumstances will be accorded Victoriano Huerta. This is known from unquestioned sources. Reports that Huerta intended to secure the election of some friend who subsequently might appoint Huerta to a post in the cabinet and resign in his favor is causing some uneasiness. For if the election is constitutional, the position of the United States towards Huerta then might be embarrassing. It is said to be quite probable, however, that no man who is elected next month, the Washington government will hold out for some time until it is convinced that stability and peace have been assured.

Oil News from California Fields

DISCOVER OIL FIELD IN WESTERN CANADA

Midway Man Receives News
Of Strike Made 27 Miles
From Vancouver

TAFT, Sept. 17.—A new oil territory has been discovered in Canada, according to telegraphic information received a few days ago by W. H. Waddell of the Canadian Pacific Oil Company. The discovery has been made 27 miles from Vancouver after a season of nearly a year's drilling in what has looked for some time like excellent producing territory.

The straining in of the well proves up more than 30,000 acres of oil land in close proximity to the city.

PLAN PIPE LINE TO LEBEC FROM MIDWAY

McKITTERICK, Sept. 17.—The General Construction Company is making preparations, it is stated, to parallel the General Petroleum Company's pipe line from Shala to Lebec, a distance of nearly fifty miles, in order that the additional facilities thus provided will meet the requirements of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads which use vast quantities of oil from the properties of the General Petroleum Company in the Midway district. The line to be laid is 5-inch, and it is estimated that the work will be completed within two months after active operations are begun. The line now in use conveys oil to both Lebec and Los Angeles, and while it was at first thought that it would furnish transportation for all which might be needed for a long time, it was later found that the supply necessary for the railroad companies and Los Angeles could not be furnished through the single line, hence the determination to double the facilities.

TAFT GAS COMPRESSOR IS ONE OF LARGEST IN WORLD

Will Cost $750,000, and Is to Regulate Pressure In Los Angeles

Enormous Undertaking Is
First of Its Kind to Be Built In West

TAFT, Sept. 17.—More than 100 men are employed on the West Side by the Midway Gas Company in the work of constructing their $750,000 compressor plant five miles east of Taft, on section 23, 32-24. The plant is the first of its kind to be installed in California, and one of the largest in the world. It is in many ways similar to one erected recently at Jane Lew, West Virginia, for the West Virginia Central Gas Company and is being built by the same engineer, G. W. Schnell, J. C. Ervin is in direct charge of the work.

Rapid progress is being made in the construction work. When the plant is finally installed it will be possible for the company to furnish gas to the City of Los Angeles at the necessary pressure no matter what the pressure may be at the wells.

As it will always be necessary for a number of families to reside at the camp it has been located with a view to the comfort of the employees. It is laid on the side of Blum's Valley with a gentle slope toward the section 27 camp of the Standard.

The camp will consist of twelve buildings and two large cooling tanks, besides a 50,000-barrel storage tank which will be kept full of water at all times.

The main building will contain eight compressors of the largest type. They will be operated by four Cooper-Natural gas engines of 1,000 horsepower each. The machinery will be placed on reinforced concrete on a floor space of 86x135 feet. The building will be served by a 15-ton hand and power crane, and the framework of the building will be of steel.

An auxiliary compressor will be installed in a house 68x36 feet but otherwise of the same specifications as the main building. Two Rathburn-Jones engines will furnish the power for the auxiliaries, and also for the camp's electric plant and machine shop. The machine shop itself will be fully equipped for every class of work.

For handling the vast amount of water necessary in forcing the gas through the lines there will be several centrifugal pumps each capable of passing 2,000 gallons per minute. They will be housed in a building 24x59 feet in size.

Two concrete reservoirs will be used in cooling the gas. One will be 68x45x12 feet and the other 68x36x5 feet. Other buildings included in the plans for the camp are a storehouse, a blacksmith shop and a commodious and well appointed office building.

Although the work of construction has been under way but little over a month, the barren spot in the desert is the busiest place in the West side fields. Two cement mixers are kept busy nine hours a day. They discharge the mixed cement directly upon the floor of the main compressor building. Approximately 650 cubic yards of concrete will be used in the floor of this building alone.

To supply water for the concrete work and for the camp use until wells can be drilled, 15,000 feet of line have been laid to connect with the mains of the Western Water Company. Two rigs are already up and active drilling for water is started with one. The water would be found at a depth of about 500 feet. To operate the compressor plant 300,000 gallons of water will be used daily. This enormous undertaking, the largest ever inaugurated in any California field is evidence of the gas operators in the West side of its future.

DEVELOPMENT NEWS OF MIDWAY FIELDS

TAFT, Sept. 17.—The No. 7 well of the North American Oil Company, on section 2, 32-23, is encountering a hard formation at a depth of about 800 feet which is making the progress slow. The well is being drilled with a mogul rotary.

The excellent production from the No. 2 well has brought about the making of plans immediately by the Standard Oil Company for the drilling of the No. 2, on section 15, 32-24. Work on the rig has been started, it having been spotted on a line between the No. 1 and the No. 2. The No. 2 is producing in the neighborhood of 200 barrels daily.

The No. 4 well of the Midway Synagogue Limited, on section 4, 32-24, went into a gas jet Sunday at a depth of about 250 feet. Much sand was thrown up, the hole being covered for several hundred feet in the hole.

The Indian and Colonial Development Company has located the No. 23 well on section 23, 32-24 at a depth of 550 feet. Preparations are being made to go on with the 3 1/2-inch pipe.

Freddie Owens, superintendent of the Mammoth Oil Company, who several months ago went to Europe on business and stayed in the hotel in New York City and is now to be on his way home. In a letter to W. H. Dooley, superintendent of the Eagle Creek, Owens states that it may be all right across the pond, but America looks good to him. He is also a householder for the West Side fields and states that he will not be long until he will be back again looking after oil interests.

The No. 11 well of the General Petroleum Company, on section 32, 32-21, which came in some time ago with a big flow and sand, is in again with a production of 8,000 barrels daily.

Dr. Cromwell and his associates, who have been spending the past two weeks in Old Mexico looking after oil locations, made a year ago, are expected back on Thursday. Cromwell has graciously remembered a number of old friends around the fields with postcards that they might know the place he has visited. Since his departure from the United States and his embarking into the jungles of Mexico no word has been received.

The California Amalgamated Oil Company, in its water department on section 35, 32-23, is making many improvements, such as the laying of several short lines and the cleaning out of the wells. The heavy mineral in the water produced for the wells caused the tubing to be of little use after a term of service. All wells are being retubed and brought up to a high standard of efficiency.

MIDWAY FIELD WILL SHOW BIG INCREASE

Advance Report of Production
Indicate Advance
In Its Output

TAFT, Sept. 17.—Advance reports of the Midway and Sunset fields show the Midway with a rapid stride ahead of last month on production, with field work apparently remaining about the same. The Sunset appears to be holding its own in production with the field work a trifle advanced.

The big boost in production in the Midway will be almost entirely from the big well of the Standard, on section 35, 31-23, which came in on August 2nd, although accredited by a number of papers last month with having been the cause of the July increase in the Midway. This well kept up steadily at the rate of from 8,000 to 12,000 barrels daily, and as there were but few big wells taken off the producing list during the month there is every showing of the Midway going far ahead of its usual average.

DRILLER IN MIDWAY TELLS OF MID-WEST

Returns From Trip to Oklahoma and Relates Conditions, Which Are Those of All New Fields

MARICOPA, Sept. 17.—Al Shrode, a former driller from the West Side oil fields, who spent the past two months in the Oklahoma oil fields, at Tulsa and Cushing, returned today accompanied by his wife. Shrode related facts on the conditions in the fields of the section he visited, and stated that the West Side was far ahead of anything in the state of Oklahoma. He found men working for less money and paying nearly double for necessities, such as groceries and clothing than is charged here. Drillers are working for $8 and $5.50 a tower, while toolies draw from $3.50 to $4. The conditions under which the men and their families have to live are similar to those gone through in Kern county, when the desert was first opened up and water had to be hauled many miles in wagons. The drilling water is very poor and the dwellings are only temporary shacks, which are terribly hot in summer and cold in winter. He also stated that nearly every man who had formerly worked on the West Side that he met was saving money to return to the Kern county fields. Shrode will remain in Maricopa permanently. He was formerly an employee of the Santa Fe at Midland.

SUFFRAGETS TRY TO BURN HISTORIC PLACE

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A suffrage "arson squad" early today tried to burn down Penrhyn Place, the historic fourteenth century country seat of Lord de Lisle and Dudley, at Tunbridge, Kent. A party of household employees succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Two women were seen fleeing across the lawn in front of the building and suffrage literature was scattered about the grounds.

CRUSHED ON STEAMSHIP
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—William Swan, first assistant engineer of the steamship Santa Barbara, fell into the ship's crankpit yesterday while oiling the engine, and was crushed to death. His body was brought to shore today on the arrival of the vessel from Willapa Harbor. Swan lived at 380 West Fifty-seventh street, Los Angeles.

STANDARD GUSHER IS KEEPING UP ITS FLOW

Output Is 20,000 Daily, Workmen Unable to Cap the Flow

TAFT, Sept. 17.—The supremacy of the Midway as a gusher producing field is being kept up by the Standard Oil Co. Its big No. 6 well, on section 35, 31-23, which is keeping up a steady production of nearly 20,000 barrels per day, is still beyond control, although every effort is being made to cap the flow.

A crew of men in charge of Superintendent Len Little is now engaged in digging a trench eight feet deep and nearly fifty feet long to the base of the pipe under the floor of the rig. With this trench being finished an effort will be made to cap the well by a method similar to that used by the Martenson Well Capper Company.

The greater part of the oil from the well, although going high into the air, is being saved because of the hills around it holding it in and causing it to run into a sump near at hand.

During the past six weeks the production of the Standard for the Midway has more than doubled because of the big wells on the McKee lease. The production as given out a few days ago is now in the neighborhood of 45,000 barrels daily.

TULARE OIL COMPANY RAISES ITS CAPITAL

American Union To Be Made $100,000 Concern;
Officers Elected

TULARE, Sept. 17.—The American Union Oil Company, whose refinery is located here, decided at the annual meeting held yesterday to increase its capital from $35,000 to $100,000.

The increase has been under contemplation for some time, and was presented yesterday by President J. J. Gray, who explained the benefits that would be derived as a result. The stated that a better equipment of the plant would be purchased and that general improvements would be undertaken. His suggestion met with enthusiastic response.

The same board of directors, consisting of the three officers was elected, these being President J. E. Gray; vice president, William Swail, and secretary-treasurer, Walter Swail.

It was decided that the board of directors would not be increased at this time. They are to be chosen later from the new stockholders who are to enter the company.

THE PROPRIETOR OF BLUE AND GOLD

Tries Plant Juice and Says
It Is the Greatest Tonic
Of Times

There is no better known or more popular man in the whole San Joaquin valley than Charlie Williams, proprietor of the Blue & Gold Lunch Counter in this city. Mr. Williams has been cured of Plant Juice of malaria, and has the following to say about this new preparation:

"I have suffered for a long time with malaria and kidney trouble, and have tried many things, but have never got any relief until I began taking Plant Juice a short time ago. I have taken four bottles of it and am feeling fine in every way now. Plant Juice is a great medicine. It seems to tone up the whole system. I am feeling so well now that I am more than glad to speak a good word for Plant Juice and recommend it to others."

Plant Juice is a vegetable remedy, made from the juices of medicinal plants gathered from all parts of the universe and combined with the greatest skill and care. As a vitalizer and tonic it has no equal. It cleanses the blood of all poisons and impurities, clears the liver and puts it into normal condition, tones up the stomach and makes you feel like a different person. If you have pains across the back, in the joints or under the shoulder blades, if your urine is too scanty or too highly colored, if you have headache, dizziness, sour stomach, constipation, no appetite, sleep poorly, wake up tired and worn out in the morning with a puff of cold about the eyes and no energy to begin the day's work, then try a bottle of Plant Juice. You will be surprised at the quick results you will obtain; you will eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. Sold at the San Joaquin Drug Company's store.

LOS BANOS RESIDENT MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

Falls Asleep On Railroad; Is Struck By Owl Train and Badly Mangled

LOS BANOS, Sept. 17.—The body of Will Trainer, a well known young man of this city, was found early this morning lying in a few inches of water near the railroad grade just east of Canal Farm. The skull was crushed and the right arm and probably the back were broken.

Evidence indicates that the deceased had sat down on the rail and had fallen asleep. A south-bound train, probably the Owl, as the railroad men state it was the only train going in that direction, struck him and the body was pitched forward down the grade. When found the body was lying face down. Death must have been instantaneous.

Will Trainer had been a familiar figure around this city for a number of years. But 23 years of age, of good appearance, and fond of pleasure, he took prominent part in nearly all the dances and social affairs of like character given in this vicinity. For the past several days he had been under the influence of liquor and his death was no doubt due to this dissipation and to loss of sleep.

Owing to a slight bend in the tracks at Canal Farm it was impossible for an engineer to stop a train in time to avoid the catastrophe which occurred.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Burch, acting as coroner, caused an inquest to be held this afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts as above stated.

The deceased was a brother of Frank Trainer, a prominent farmer who is superintendent of one of Miller & Lux's ranches near this city. His parents reside at Gilroy, in which city the young man was born. He has several sisters residing in San Francisco.

BAKERSFIELD BREVITIES

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 17.—The Realty Board is taking steps to secure for Bakersfield the next meeting in convention of the state gathering.

The fire department has been called out three times in the last four days for false alarms. There is no clue to the miscreant.

The case against Ed. J. Boust, who is charged by W. C. Davis with running an illegal amusement house in Boust City, Taft, was to have been heard this morning before Justice of Peace Marlon, but was postponed on account of Boust's condition. He recently collided with a Santa Fe train in his automobile, and has been in a serious condition at a local hospital.

The currency proposition is again being agitated here, and a committee has been named by the Merchants Association to investigate the matter. This committee will ascertain what amount and varieties of fruits may be obtained from local farmers. The county horticultural commissioner announces he will be glad to give the farmers any needed information as to the varieties of fruits most suitable for canning purposes here.

ADOPT STRINGENT HEALTH ORDINANCE
Fowler Trustees Also Appoint Board of Health for Its Enforcement; Bootlegger Fined $40

FOWLDER, Sept. 17.—A stringent health ordinance was adopted at last night's meeting of the city trustees. It is designed to do away with disease-breeding accumulations within the limits of the city and to provide sanitary regulations in the matter of food-stuffs.

Meat and milk come in especially for strict regulation. The board also appointed a health board to carry out the health ordinance which is headed by Dr. C. O. Mitchell. The other members are Mrs. Roy Giffin, Mrs. A. B. Armstrong, Miss Nellie Ireland, Clara Chapman, C. W. Beall and J. W. Ford.

All were present at the meeting last night and received official appointments. The board then adjourned to the ante-room and held a committee meeting and reported back to the board that they had already examined the sanitary conditions at the grammar school and found the outbuildings to be in an unsanitary condition.

The board accepted this report unanimously and instructed the sanitary inspector to see that the new ordinance was lived up to to the letter. The session of the board of trustees lasted until after midnight.

Marshal Fort arrested members of the Kamiseno Company late Saturday for delivering a case of booze to another Japanese firm. They were cited to appear before Judge Bradley on Monday morning, when they pleaded guilty and were fined $40.

HIGHWAYS IN TULARE ARE COATED WITH OIL

Over 45 Miles Are Treated Already, and 15 More Will Be Worked

TULARE, Sept. 17.—More than 45 miles of road have been covered with a coating of oil in supervisor's district No. 2, under Supervisor T. B. Wadsworth, since August 26th, and work is still in progress. About 15 miles more will be oiled before the work is completed about October 1st. Eighteen cars of oil have been used so far; the first 45 miles of road. Six cars more are yet to be put on.

Most of the road that has been oiled has had a previous coating, but there is some of it that is new, increasing the total mileage of oiled roads in Supervisor Wadsworth's district.

The road that has been oiled this summer is divided as follows: Thirteen miles in the Wadsworth district, six cars of oil being used; nine miles in the Paige district, where five cars of oil have been used; five and one-half miles west of Tulare, nine miles between Tulare and Woodville, four miles between Tulare and Lindsay and four and one-half miles on the Oakland Colony road. Seven cars of oil have been put on these roads.

The oiling crew, under the direction of T. B. Chandler, are now working in the Paige district, where they will put on one more carload of oil. Five cars of oil are yet to be placed on the roads about this city.

Twelve men besides Mr. Chandler and 38 head of horses are employed to run the four oil wagons and two graders used in the work.

LABEL SELMA YOUTH WITH PHONE NUMBER; WANDERS FROM HOME

SELMA, Sept. 17.—"Phone 28" is the queer sign which is carried on the back of a small Japanese boy, who may be frequently seen on the streets of Selma. The little fellow, who stands hardly two feet high, and who commands immediate attention by his independent stride, is not a walking advertisement. Instead, he is so prone to wander away from home that his parents have found it necessary to place their telephone number on his back, that those finding him may inform them of his whereabouts.

The little Nippon is the cute pet of the entire Japanese quarter, and although he is shown every distinction at home by his fond parents and admiring Oriental residents, he is ambitious to travel. Streets busy with traffic, or stores full of bustling shoppers have no terrors for him. In fact he seems to enjoy them, and when inquiries are directed toward him he says "Kimi-kimi," which means "I am here."

"Kimi-kimi," which was so often asked him by those suspecting his family name, before his parents adopted the novel idea of placing their telephone number on each of his garments.

IS APPOINTED AS SEALER OF WEIGHTS

SHIPMENTS SHOW DECREASE
TULOCK, Sept. 17.—According to figures given out yesterday at the local Southern Pacific office, shipments from Tulock during the months of July and August show a decrease from those of a corresponding period last year.

Although hay and cantaloupe shipments show an increase, the shipments of the watermelon and fruit crops contributed to the net decrease.

For the months of July and August, 1912, the shipments were as follows: Watermelons, 620 cars; cantaloupe, 203 cars; hay, 25 cars; fruit, etc., 82 cars. For the same months this year the shipments were: Watermelons, 330 cars; cantaloupe, 310 cars; hay, 45 cars; fruit, etc., 23 cars. Totals: 1912, 900 cars; 1913, 817 cars; a decrease of 83 cars.

FREED OF CHARGE OF FORGING CHECK

Bakersfield Machinist Is Exonerated After Being Brought Back From Arkansas to Face Charges

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 17.—A. T. Charron, the secretary of the Kern lodge of Machinists, accused of forgery, has been exonerated. He was brought all the way out from Arkansas to answer the charge against him, and was followed by his family at great trouble, "humiliation" and expense. He made a mistake in the amount of a check in transferring his account to the succeeding secretary on designing his position. He was notified of the mistake by the bank before he left, and made out a second check. The new secretary could not account for the second check and a forgery warrant was sworn out for Charron.

PLAN BANQUET FOR POWER OFFICIALS

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 17.—The citizens of Bakersfield have asked the San Joaquin Light and Power officials to attend a banquet to discuss the city's needs. William G. Kirkhoff, A. G. Watson, A. C. Bales and others have been asked to attend. The function is to consider the problem of street railways, and they are asked to name the date most suitable for them. The invitation says in part: "The people are greatly interested in the plans of your company. Bakersfield has now reached a point in its development where there must be adequate transportation facilities and to accomplish this end we earnestly invite the cooperation of your company, and we suggest a full and frank discussion of this problem at the dinner planned." Besides the above-mentioned, invitations were sent to L. L. Parham, secretary of the directors, Kaspar Kahn and J. W. Holliman, A. E. Wilson and E. H. Walbridge, assistant general manager, and Harry A. Jastro, local manager.

LEMOORE SCHOOLS SHOW LARGE GAIN

LEMOORE, Sept. 17.—The high school opened on Monday with an enrollment of 75, against 58 in the last year, and with thirty freshmen against twenty last year. Already the total has swelled to eighty and is expected to reach 100 before the classes are well under way. With the increase in the enrollment it has necessitated much rearranging and adding of seats to the classrooms, and extra numbers. The equipment by way of typewriters, laboratory apparatus and other equipment has been found very inadequate, but these are being prepared as fast as possible to meet the demands.

The grammar school opened with an enrollment of 215, which is twenty more than last year. That number is expected to swell to 350 at least. All the teachers are taking up their work in high spirits, and are feeling greatly encouraged over the apparent increased interest in school work as manifested by the increased attendance.

FILE SUIT TO GAIN POWER LINE RIGHTS

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—The first condemnation suit brought by the Pacific Light and Power corporation, began before Judge W. B. Wallace in the Superior court today, against Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Agnew, who are among a number of "Tulare county" ranchers who have taken legal steps in opposition to the company constructing a high power transmission line over their properties. The principal witness called today was E. R. Davis, general manager of the corporation. The line proposed by the company extends for 242 miles and according to Mr. Davis, it is for the purpose of supplying power to the electric railway systems in Los Angeles.

PORTERVILLE HIGH HAS 300 STUDENTS

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 17.—The attendance at the Porterville high school for the opening semester will be well over the 300 mark. It is probable that by the end of the year 350 students will be enrolled. Several shifts in classes have been necessary to accommodate the students and in several of the classes three and four divisions have been found necessary. The old assembly hall has been cut into study-rooms and the temporary additions erected to the main buildings last year are already crowded to overflowing.

FIND WEAPON USED TO SHOOT MEXICAN

HANFORD, Sept. 17.—The weapon with which Frank Dominguez shot Juan Jennelle through the thigh at a Mexican camp near Lemoore Monday night, was recovered. A Dominguez's home in Hanford last night by Constable H. M. Herstein, and City Marshal S. D. Logan. The gun had been spirited into concealment by Dominguez's father, Jennelle will probably recover, but the weapon was necessary evidence to secure conviction on the charge of assault with murderous intent which has been filed against Dominguez.

FIREMEN SAVE COTTAGES

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 17.—Most efficient work by the fire department last evening saved the Nattie Smith cottages in Oak street near Third from destruction after fire had spread from a house owned by Joseph Smith in the extent of $50. Several hours' work was done in the fire of the cottages and burned in an alarm. The owner responded in record time, a hole was chopped through the roof of the building and a few minutes' work with the chemicals and the fire was out.

HOLD FIRST MEETING TO RECALL OFFICIAL

Opponents of Mrs. Davidson, Kings Superintendent, Gather In Corcoran

HANFORD, Sept. 17.—The opening meeting of the campaign in which the friends of T. J. Roeman, former high school principal, hope to effect the removal of Mrs. N. E. Davidson, Kings county's school superintendent, by involving the recall, was held at Corcoran last night with fair attendance, including a large delegation from Hanford.

Principal Roeman vigorously attacked Mrs. Davidson, claiming that she attempted to dominate the school and was instrumental in bringing the charges of immoral and unprofessional conduct which led to the revocation of his teacher's certificate by the Kings county board of education in June. He also attacked other members of the Kings county board of education, among whom is its president, Mrs. M. E. Bernsten. B. L. Barney, who has been active in the fight for T. J. Roeman, addressed the meeting, and T. E. Cochrane, who is the opposing recall candidate.

Friends of Mrs. Davidson regard the meeting as evidence of a bitter and unkind campaign, to be waged by the recall advocates. Other meetings are scheduled for Lemoore, Hanford, Guerneville, Stratford and elsewhere in the county. The recall election is set for September 28.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES SELECT OFFICERS

Met In Porterville With Principal; Work of Year Mapped Out; Assurance Given of Book Supply

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 17.—Members of the Porterville school board met last evening for their organization work, which resulted in the choice of Byron L. Carpenter as chairman of the grammar school board, and W. L. Humphill chairman of the high school. Mr. E. DeWitt, who has served the district faithfully for the past several years as secretary, will remain in that position.

Superintendent Brous of the high school who presided at the meeting and tentatively mapped out the work for the coming year. Prof. Brous stated that among other things much more attention will be paid this year to beautification of the grounds.

An order was entered for several new typewriters for the commercial department and books are to be provided for all buildings and class rooms.

J. H. James, retired merchant of this city, who takes a large interest in the school work of this district, has written from Sacramento that he has the definitive promise of the superintendent of public instruction, and the state printer that all state text books will be shipped to Porterville this week for city schools and for the outlying districts of this section. James states that there are a few of the books that are temporarily out of print, but that these, too, will be ready for distribution in the very near future.

POSTPONE HEARING OF IDEN CHARGES

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—District Attorney Frank L. Johnson, states that further charges against W. A. Allen, accused of obtaining money under false pretenses, and manipulating a mortgage property, will not be taken up until September 23rd. There are still three cases pending against the former Tulare real estate operator, W. B. Carroll in the county court, but that these, too, will be ready for distribution in the very near future.

SELECT WOMAN FOR EDUCATION BOARD

MERCED, Sept. 17.—Callie E. Thompson of Dos Palos resigned as a member of the county board of education yesterday and the supervisors elected Mrs. Anna Blinn of Merced to fill the vacancy. C. S. Clark, principal of the Merced grammar school, and Principal Joyce, of the Los Banos school, were also candidates for the position.

Kerman Motorcyclist Makes Fast Time To Catch Fresno Train

KERMAN, Sept. 17.—O. Synoground made a trip to Fresno last night to catch the 10 o'clock train for Los Angeles, a distance of seventeen miles in 19 minutes. He received a telegram stating that his mother was dying and hurried the fastest rider to secure an auto, and not finding one employed Mr. Synoground took him to the city on his motorcycle. The trip was made in plenty of time and the pair arrived in the depot in Fresno 15 minutes before train time. Otherwise there would have been a delay of twelve to fourteen hours.

PIONEER WOMAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Wife of Prominent West Side Farmer and Stockman Succumbs to Diabetes; Lived Here 40 Years

LOS BANOS, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Marie Lagrave Menjoulet, wife of John Menjoulet, a pioneer stock raiser and rancher of this section, passed away Tuesday from diabetes. Deceased was a native of France, 66 years of age, and for the past forty years had been a resident of the West Side where her husband owns and controls extensive property interests. In former years her family home was in the hills west of this city, but latterly Mr. and Mrs. Menjoulet had purchased much valuable property between this city and Volta, where they made the family home. It was there that death took place. She was closely identified with early history of the West Side.

Under her husband there survive three sons and three daughters. These are John, Jr., Henry and George Menjoulet, Mrs. William Pitzer, Mrs. Samuel McCollough and Miss Julia Menjoulet.

The funeral will be held from the Catholic church in this city at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. Father LeBeau officiating. Interment will be made in Los Banos cemetery.

TULARE BEEMAN IS STILL IN HOSPITAL

Condition Is Somewhat Improved; Assistant Is Held Pending Outcome Of Wound Made With Hoe

TULARE, Sept. 17.—J. E. Walker, the beeman, assaulted with a hoe by Sam Miller some weeks ago, is still in the San Joaquin hospital suffering from his wounds, though his condition is a trifle improved. He is conscious and talks rationally, but is still afflicted with partial paralysis. Dr. Blodgett states that he can not tell what the outcome will be at this time, as to his being a cripple for life, or whether he will ultimately regain use of his limbs, but states that Walker is doing as well as can be expected considering the serious nature of the wound.

Miller is still held in the county jail pending the outcome. It is probable a charge of assault with intent to kill will be placed against him.

VISALIA CHANGES JUVENILE JUDGES

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—The new probation law went into effect today and Judge J. A. Allen became judge of the juvenile court in place of Judge W. B. Wallace. The new law makes three divisions of minor "conditions," neglected, dependent, and delinquent. Under the new law the juvenile authorities believe their work has been given wider scope. Through the neglected division they hope to get at the root of the evil. The second change makes it possible to transfer juvenile cases from one county to another, and the third provides for appeal to a higher court.

PLAN IMPROVEMENT SIMILAR TO FRESNO

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 17.—The Santa Fe is to have a platform of vitrified brick extending along its property line in which 125,000 bricks shipped from Santa Fe, N. M., will be used. The bricks will be laid in flush with the tracks and on a grade with the surrounding streets, covering the area between the tracks and around the building into one great platform. Work will start October 15th.

NAME COMMISSIONERS FOR HIGHWAY PLANS

Merced Takes First Step In Preparation for Bond Issue for Good Roads

MERCED, Sept. 17.—Acting upon a sufficiently signed petition, the supervisors yesterday afternoon named three highway commissioners to prepare plans and specifications for a system of highways in Merced county preparatory to calling a special election to vote about $1,000,000 bonds for "improvement" of the roads. The commissioners are composed of Paul Neumann, of Le Grand; C. H. Nickerson, of Merced, and W. T. Chentham, of Los Banos. A few years ago a similar bond issue was defeated in this county but proponents of the proposition confidently expect the bonds to carry this time.

SELMA WOMEN PLAN FOR ACTIVE SEASON

Plans for Beautifying City Are Made At Meeting Held At The Home of President; Select Officers

SELMA, Sept. 17.—The Woman's Improvement Club of Selma began the year's work yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Hurry Say, who gave a reception to the club members. In addition to the social features of the day, the women gave promises of a very active year's work, and proceeded to perfect plans. Mrs. Fred C. Berry was elected to the office of second vice-president, which is a newly-created office on account of the rapidly expanding work of the club. Mrs. John Arthur was corresponding secretary, which also is a new office on account of the work falling upon the former secretary, Mrs. Arthur Snyder, who will continue as financial secretary. Mrs. H. J. Jacobson was selected as a member of the board of directors, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. A. E. Brown.

One of the first matters to be taken up by the ladies this year will be a cooking school lasting over three or four days. It is planned to make the school a big event, with entertainment features, and closing with a banquet.

INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF WATER FAILURE

Trustees at Maricopa Discover Some One Had Tamped With Gates to Water Main Before Fire

MARICOPA, Sept. 17.—A special meeting was held by the trustees last evening to investigate the cause of water shortage at a recent fire. J. I. Wray, owner of the West Side Water Co., was present and explaining that on a recent occasion when the water supply gave out, it was caused by some one tampering with the gate which shuts off the main which supplies water in the city. It being located in a secluded spot, it was some time before the difficulty was discovered. The marshal was ordered to arrest all persons found tampering with the mains or hydrants in the city.

VISALIA HAPPENINGS

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—Ten additional answers have been filed in the case of the Popular Irrigation company vs. A. A. Howard et al. There are forty-one defendants altogether, which involves water rights on the Tule river. The plaintiff company contends it has a right to 125,000 cubic feet of water per second.

At a meeting to be held Friday night, the Patriarch Militants of the Visalia I. O. O. F. lodge will arrange for representation at the grand encampment to be held at Riverside, beginning October 6th.

The school board decided last evening to increase the domestic science equipment at the high school. Three sewing machines and eight electric stoves were ordered, and additional tools were also ordered for the manual training department.

HEAVY HITTING WINS FOR BEARS

Pope and Arlett Are Both Ineffective; Third Place At Stake

(Special to the Republican.)
SAN JOSE, Sept. 17.—Both Watsonville and San Jose slugged the ball hard today, lucky bounces on a couple of extra base hits giving San Jose advantage enough to win, 7 to 0. Pope and Arlett were both ineffective and inclined to be wild. San Jose bunched hits in three innings and Watsonville hit Pope effectively in four. Third place is at stake in the series here but San Jose must win seven out of ten games to tie for that place. Score:

WASHINGTON LOSES TWO.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Detroit inaugurated its farewell appearance of the season here today by taking both games of a double-header from Washington, 5 to 1 and 4 to 2. Bunching of hits in two innings—the fourth in the first game and the first in the second—proved Washington's undoing. Outside of these two innings Detroit failed to score.

Detroit jumped on Boehling at the start of the second game. Crawford was safe on an error, and Cobb cleaned the bags with a home run. Boehling then settled down and there was no more scoring. Williams, a Detroit recruit southpaw, pitched steadily throughout. Scores:

WON.	LOST.	PCT.
Detroit	10	10 .500
Washington	2	3 .400
Batteries—Dube and Gibson; Galla, Love and Almsmith.

NEW YORK WINS ONE

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—New York broke out of the cellar for the first time this season today, splitting a double-header with Chicago while the Athletics were beating St. Louis. Chicago won the first game easily, 9 to 2. New York took the second, an eight-inning affair, 3 to 2.

Chicago, a little trouble winning the first game, pounding Ford and Pleh, a Central league recruit, for eighteen hits. Pleh was very wild and the visitors scored at will in the two innings he pitched. Whitman, a Houston recruit, hit Scott for three doubles and drew a pass in four times up. Schall stole home in the ninth inning of this game.

New York won the second game by bunching hits with good base running in three innings, helped along in the first by a wild throw by Chase. The scores:

WON.	LOST.	PCT.
Chicago	9	13 .408
New York	3	7 .300
Batteries—Scott and Schalk; Ford, Pleh and Gossett, Reynolds.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Batting

rallies in the sixth and eighth innings. Philadelphia a victory over St. Louis today, 4 to 2. Manager Eickhoff assumed charge of the St. Louis team this afternoon. Harry Davis, the veteran first baseman and former manager of Cleveland, got into the game. Derrick drove in the first run for his club and started the rally in the ninth with another single. Three players were hurt. Outfielder Clarence Walker of St. Louis had his forehead split by running into the left field bleachers in practice. It was necessary to take several stitches in his scalp. Pitcher Brown of Philadelphia wrenched his knee fielding a grounder in the first inning, thrown then threw wild to first and McInnis in trying to make a one-handed catch collided with Pratt. Brown left the field at once, but McInnis, whose left arm was injured, remained in the game until the fourth inning. Score:

WON.	LOST.	PCT.
St. Louis	3	3 .500
Philadelphia	4	2 .667

CLEVELAND, 2; BOSTON, 0.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Cleveland shut out Boston today, 2 to 0, in a game full of brilliant plays. Boston was in a position to score on several occasions but Falkenberg refused to allow the needed hit.

Speaker captured a terrific liner from Graneys bat in the ninth inning with one hand, thereby cutting off what appeared to be a sure home run. Score:

WON.	LOST.	PCT.
Cleveland	2	0 .100

HOMER BY THOMAS GIVES STOCKTON VICTORY

Fresno Players Out Hit Productionists But Lose 4 to 6

Rally in Ninth Inning Fails To Bring Winning Run Across

By A. H. MARLIN.

STOCKTON, Sept. 17.—In a game crowded with thrills, the Productionists climbed one more rung in the pennant ladder this afternoon by setting the Packers back, 6 to 4, although the boys from the Pacific coast secured the most hits, three of them, were of the scratchy order, but they counted in two out of three instances.

The home guard got away to a flying start in the initial trial. After the visitors had failed to register, McCardle, flew out to Meusel and Schmidt hit clean into right. Butler popped up to Fahey after Schmidt had stolen second. Wilhoit puled a liner to left along the foul line and Schmidt crossed the plate. Thomas shot a grounder between third and short.

Forcing Wilhoit, who easily beat out the return on the hit and run signal, Pittman finished the disturbance with a high one to Wheeler.

Fresno broke into the limelight by tying the score in the third inning. Hoffman and Harkins, yanked and Peters reached first on Boeckel's error of a perfect throw of Jones. Wheeler kept a foul to Thomas and another hit, leaving all at their stations. Meusel drove a daisy cutter past Jones into center and Hoffman and Harkins checked in. Fahey whiffed but Sawyer hit to left. Bender ended the trouble with a short fly to right.

Thomas' hired men came right-back in the same frame and put two more marks on the board on a single and a double, along with an error by Fahey, who fumbled Schmidt's grounder.

In the fifth Fresno got another score on Pierce's pass. Wheeler's slow one to second, a sacrifice fly to right, sent Pierce to third, and Fahey's single into left.

The contest was clinched in the same inning when the locals put two over. Schmidt had been benched on a fly to Sawyer after Butler had doubled to left, when Wilhoit went out to right on a high one. Thomas hit for a home run between right and center, ending the score for Stockton.

The Wheelerites made a strong bid in the eighth. Sawyer went out, Butler to Thomas. Bender hooked one of Jones' offerings for two cushions. Berkes fanned, Hoffman scored. Bender with a safety over second. Harkins dropped one into Butler's mit finishing the inning.

The ninth was the most exciting of the game. After Pierce failed to locate three balls over the plate, Wheeler walked, Meusel and Fahey singled, filling the base and causing much uneasiness. Stewart was sent in by Wheeler after one strike had been called on Sawyer, who became furious at being benched. Stewart popped to Butler and Bender flew to Schmidt, ending the contest. Score:

PAIR OF PITCHERS LOSE TO ANGELS

Howard Benches Baker In Sixth But Seals Fail To Win

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—After Los Angeles had hit safely four times in the sixth inning of today's game, Jess Baker was benched, but it was too late for the Seals to overcome a three run lead. Los Angeles added another rally in the seventh and took the game by the score of 5 to 1.

Polly Peritt was touched for three hits in the first inning which gave the visitors a run, but that ended the scoring for San Francisco. Krueger featured at the bat with two doubles and a single out of four trips to the plate. Score:

ATHLETICS TO FEATURE PORTERVILLE FIESTA

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 17.—Athletics will be made a particular feature of the fall fiesta, which is to be held here under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce beginning October 23. Members of the athletic committee, including H. L. Pomeroy, F. K. Stuart and F. W. Velle, met at the Chamber offices last evening and mapped out a portion of the program.

Among the sports will be a Rugby game between Porterville and some other team of the C. C. A. League; a motorcycle race for all, with a substantial added-money prize; a relay

STOCKTON IS THREE GAMES IN LEAD OF WHEELER'S PLAYERS

Official Averages From San Francisco Office Wrong; Special Train

Counting the loss of yesterday, Fresno is now three games behind the league leaders. This leaves ten games yet to be played, five more in Stockton and five in Fresno. A. T. Baum threw a scare into local fans yesterday, when he issued the official standing, which put Fresno three and one-half games behind.

This is incorrect. Fred Berry, owner of the locals, was some mad man when he saw the standing of the clubs. He immediately proceeded to call Baum by phone but could not get the league president. A telegram sent to the office in San Francisco brought the information that Fresno was three and one-half games behind Stockton.

Berry immediately grabbed a telephone and got into communication with Manager George Wheeler at Stockton. Wheeler stated that Fresno was only two games behind, before the defeat of yesterday. Jack Thomas, manager of the Productionists, seconded the statement.

Baum is now in Portland on an official visit in the Coast League and a correction cannot be made before he returns. The official averages issued last Monday—they are issued each Monday—were sent out by Baum's secretary.

The Packers are in fine condition, according to the statement of Wheeler to Berry and are playing pennant baseball. Wheeler appreciates the fact that the fans are going to Stockton in a special train.

Already a number have signed up for the trip and fully a hundred more have signified their willingness to go. Your names and money must be in the hands of the committee not later than tonight. Papers can be secured at either the Brunswick or Coliseum.

ATLANTIC, 8; ST. LOUIS, 4.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Batting rallies in the sixth and eighth innings. Philadelphia a victory over St. Louis today, 4 to 2. Manager Eickhoff assumed charge of the St. Louis team this afternoon. Harry Davis, the veteran first baseman and former manager of Cleveland, got into the game. Derrick drove in the first run for his club and started the rally in the ninth with another single. Three players were hurt. Outfielder Clarence Walker of St. Louis had his forehead split by running into the left field bleachers in practice. It was necessary to take several stitches in his scalp. Pitcher Brown of Philadelphia wrenched his knee fielding a grounder in the first inning, thrown then threw wild to first and McInnis in trying to make a one-handed catch collided with Pratt. Brown left the field at once, but McInnis, whose left arm was injured, remained in the game until the fourth inning. Score:

LOHMAN UNABLE TO HOLD WOLVES

Oakland Runs Contest to Ten Innings Before Losing Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—San Francisco and Oakland played another ten inning game today and Sacramento again won. The final score was 4 to 1. After Oakland had made the game 2 to 1 in the last half of the ninth, when Ables, who had pitched for the Oaks up to that time, was relieved to make room for a pinch hitter, Lohman was sent in. Sacramento then batted out four hits that yielded three runs and Oakland was unable to overcome this big lead in its half of the ninth inning. Minnell pitched for Sacramento and allowed seven scattered hits. Score:

Bob Shawkey May Play in the Series Against Giants

Bob Shawkey.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Though sardine can his his his his his his he has been but two months away from the minors, Bob Shawkey, of the Athletics may be used by Connie Mack in the world's series. Robert is proving a regular beat-out in the box and in the games he has played since entering the big show has permitted, but an average of one run for each five innings.

Had Connie Mack's hurling staff not become suddenly weak Shawkey would still be with Baltimore. Connie's veterans gave way this summer and he had to do something to strengthen the pitching end of his club. He brought Shawkey from Baltimore and put him to work. Shawkey has pitched some well ball for the Philadelphia team.

Shawkey made his American league debut in July against the White Sox in Chicago. They got two runs off him in seven innings. Since the debut Shawkey has allowed 15 runs in 65 innings.

The Browns are a hard club for Shawkey. Twice they knocked him off the mound.

WILL WHIP RITCHIE IN SHADOW FIGHTING

Freddie Welsh Has Novel Plan for Becoming World Champion

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 17.—Freddie Welsh, British lightweight champion, proposes to shadow fight himself into the world's championship here next Saturday afternoon, the day he was to have fought Willie Ritchie for that title. Having disposed of his imaginary opponent, Welsh said today, he will demand Ritchie's fight, prohibit himself world's champion and set in motion legal machinery to obtain damages from Ritchie for several consecutive matches Welsh declared he has lost through writing the champion. This is the British boxer's announced program for Saturday.

Welsh in at 12:15 p. m. at 155 pounds; hop through the ropes at the seven o'clock inter.

Shadow fight an imaginary Ritchie; land an imaginary knockout; declare himself world's champion; visit his lawyers and make a claim for the $2,500 forfeit money.

Ritchie's forfeit was posted as a check on which he stopped payment before he left for San Francisco.

ITALIAN SPEED MAN KILLED IN CONTEST AT NORFOLK FESTIVAL

NORFOLK, Neb., Sept. 17.—Louis Manghetti, the Italian automobile driver, who won the speed championship of South America in 1909, 1910 and 1911, was instantly killed here this afternoon in the second race of the Norfolk fall festival meet. Manghetti's car capsized on a curve, throwing Manghetti headlong to the outside of the track, breaking his neck. It was a pursuit race, in which only one other man was entered. Manghetti, who has been known as "Mad Louis" on three continents, because of his daring, was swinging around the half mile track at terrific speed when the accident occurred. He was 32 years old, his wife lives in Richmond, Va.

WINTER BOWLING WILL START AT TAFT SOON

Eckdahl In Charge of Organizing Teams for Play of Season

TAFT, Sept. 17.—Within another week the winter bowling season will open in Taft with a six team league. Shorty Eckdahl is busy organizing the separate teams and forming them into a league to hold matches regularly during the fall and winter months.

Clubs of three each will compose the league. As several bowlers from Maricopa and Fellows have signified their willingness to play, the organization may extend through the whole West Side.

Leo Homan has provided a silver trophy to each member of the winning club. If the plan meets with the approval of the members, a $100 purse will also be awarded the winning team of the league and by agreement between the contesting teams any game may be played for a purse.

Following is a list of bowlers in Taft and the vicinity who will be on hand Saturday night when the league is formally organized:

Pop Robinson, Mickey Schultz, Tommie Pettit, Walter Oliver, McLaughlin, Jake Jacobus, Herman Holcomb, Fred Sandstad, Wilson, Norman Mosher and Adolph.

SIXTY-ONE ENTERED IN BIG GOLF TOURNAMENT

Three English Players Will Contest for Honors of Association

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 17.—A field of sixty-one qualified golfers, of whom sixty-one are professionals, will begin play here tomorrow in the twenty-ninth annual championship contest of the American Golf Association. Three English players, Edward Ray, Harry Vardon and Wilfrid Reid, are in, as is Louis Toller of France. Among the Americans are J. M. McDermott, present open champion, and Jerome Travers, present amateur champion.

Reid's fine score was equalled in the afternoon by R. MacDonald of the Hyde Park Country Club, Chelmsford, who played the most consistent golf of the first round. McDermott, who had three fives, twelve fours and three threes, going out in thirty-eight and coming back in thirty-four for a seventy-two.

Heinrich Schmidt of Worcester, who held Hilton to the nineteenth hole in the recent British amateur championship, made an eighty-one, which was tied by John G. Anderson of Braeburn, who was defeated in the finals of the last American championship.

TWO NEW WAYS TO CATCH RABBITS

By the first method "you take a lot of salt, mix some pepper with it, throw it on a very hard rock, then watch. The rabbits come and eat the salt, and the pepper makes 'em sneeze so violent, they bump their noses on the rock till they fall in a swoon and you step up and bag 'em in your bag."

The other method was to "build a bushy fire in the woods when the snow is plenty. Now rabbits, you must know, is a little cold blooded little critters, so they'll run and get round it and warm their toes. Well, pretty soon they'll drop a flask and the fire'll melt the snow into slush. And pretty soon the fire'll die out and the mornin' 'll cum on sharp and 'll freeze the slush into ice and ketch the little critters fast by the paws. Then all you have to do is cum round with your axe and chop 'em out." Robert Haves-Schaffner in the August Metropolitan.

HUSBAND ASKS ALIMONY

The first instance in this state of a husband asking alimony from his wife occurred in the divorce suit filed by Edward S. Blakeney, of Dorchester, against Mrs. Mary A. Blakeney.

Broken teeth, attacks with utensils ranging all the way from rolling pins and a red hot flat iron, poison threats, nagging and gossiping are all embodied in the list of charges which Blakeney makes. His wife also pleads an attachment for $2,000 on the Blakeney house, which he charges was bought with his money and merely placed in his wife's name.

Though Mr. and Mrs. Blakeney were married in March of 1883, her "acts of cruelty" did not begin until 1900, according to his bill of specifications. His charges indicate that then they began earnest.

He alleges Mrs. Blakeney threw a carving knife at him with such force that its handle was broken when it hit the wall behind him. He says she struck him in the face and forced him to sleep in the hall.

Less than a year later, he claims, she aimed a hot flat iron at his face, which struck his shoulder and scorched his clothing. The next event was at supper time, when she chose a saucer, which again missed his face, but cut his ear as it whizzed by. The throwing propensities of his

Athletics' First Baseman to Figure in Big Series

A new star in world's series games, and also a very bright one, will show up this year in the person of Stuffy McInnis, the Athletics' snappy first baseman. He was a member of the 1911 team, but during the all-star series George Mullin broke Stuffy's wrist with a fast one. Harry Davis played at first that year. McInnis is expected to be a bigger help to the coming series than Davis was two years ago.

Besides being a classy infielder, McInnis is always liberally with the stick. He has a batting average of .327.

ASTORIA RINGSTER HOLDS FRANK LOGAN TO 10 ROUND DRAW

OAKLAND, Sept. 17.—Otto Berg, of Astoria, Oregon, and Frank Logan, formerly of Manila, middleweights, fought a fast ten round draw tonight before the West Oakland club.

A special six-round event between Owen Hooker of Marysville and Maurice Flynn of Chicago was given to Hooker in the second round after Flynn had fouled him. Both are bantamweights.

ELLIS WINS SHOTGUN HANDICAP AT STOCKTON

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—George Ellis of Stockton, shooting at a seventeen yard range won the Pacific Coast handicap shotgun tournament today when he broke 85 out of 100 clay birds. Will P. Sears of Los Angeles, was second with 91 and five others tied for third with a score of 92.

The preliminary handicap began last Saturday, ended today with H. F. Willson of Troutdale, Ore., a winner. Willson's score was 89 out of a possible 100. Including an unfinished run in other events on Monday Willson scored 158 consecutive birds.

M'GURNE AND CARTER TO BATTLE SATURDAY

Maricopa Athletic Club Will Stage Big Middle-weight Bout

MARICOPA, Sept. 17.—Joe McGurne of San Francisco arrived today to finish training for his go with Kid Carter Saturday night. McGurne is a likely looking fellow and is considered one of the best men of his class in the state. He has training quarters at the Gate City and will round into shape in the few remaining days before the fight. He has been in training for the past month at the Oakland Athletic Club in West Oakland.

Kid Carter is expected to arrive tonight and he will be put up in quarters in the Maricopa Athletic Club building. Carter has many short fights in the south of late and is considered the best middleweight around Los Angeles.

Wife, Ellen, claims, continued after they went to Dorchester to live in 1902. There, he says, she threw a rolling pin at his head, this time with correct aim, and used a broom with such accuracy that several of his teeth were knocked out. At the same place, he says, she attacked him with an axe. Boston Dispatch to the New York World.

UNEVENTFUL DAY IN STATE RACING

Guy Borden Piloted By Willie Durfee Takes Pace In Straight Heats

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—Uneventful racing marked the fourth day of the harness meeting at the California State fair grounds today. Guy Borden, took the 2:11 pacing event in three straight heats. In the first heat Borden took the rail and won his driver pulling. The same thing was repeated in the second and third heats. Borden scored his best time in the last heat when he made the mile in 2:09 1/2. Bradmont and Cleopatra finished second and third to Borden in all three heats.

A. L. Scott, president of the board of state fair directors, took the free-for-all amateur trot with his Mamie Alwin. The trotter had no trouble in taking the first two heats and was then withdrawn, the owner fearing injury to the mare. The last heat was won by the Empress with D. E. Wright driving.

The 2:30 amateur trot brought out but one starter, Diane. The horse went an exhibition mile in 2:19 1/2.

It is predicted that the real racing of the week will start tomorrow.

WINCHESTER Rifle and Pistol Cartridges

It's the careful and scientific manner in which Winchester cartridges are made and loaded which has earned for them a reputation for accuracy, reliability and uniformity which no other brands enjoy. Winchester cartridge shells are carefully inspected before loading for size, length and conformity. All Winchester bullets are swaged by machinery which makes them exact in size, contour and density. Then the loading is done by automatic machinery which not only insures a uniform charge, but seats the bullet in the shell so that its axis coincides with that of the shell; hence with that of the barrel of the arm. These are a few of the many reasons why Winchester cartridges in all calibers are the most satisfactory on the market. Use the W Brand.

GOLDEN MOMENTS

BY WILL SEAT.

T Mrs. Irvington's men paid court to the beautiful Evelyn Chalmers. The night was warm and the windows opening of the veranda were thrown wide. A late rising moon cast a hovering light on the lawn and on the face of a man hurrying toward the steps followed by his host.

"I say, it's too bad, Jack, to have you leave. It's barely 10."

"I'm sorry," replied Redney, "but it's one of my special cases. Good night."

"Who's that?" asked Miss Chalmers, idly.

"Dr. Redney—doctor by choice."

"Choice?" The girl's brows arched. She did not come in contact with many who would for pleasure.

"He's wealthy," continued Dick Rogers, "but fell in love with his profession when a kid, and has stuck to it ever since. Does a lot of charity doctoring. Didn't you meet him?"

"No," said Evelyn. "There are so many." She leaned back in her chair, half yawned, and forgot the incident.

The next afternoon the President was crouching in the hottest corner of the garden, when he spied a dog—an ordinary dog, looking so he wriggled through the hedge, and scolded in a low, hoarse voice, took a walk with the yellow dog. When the gardener gazed around the President was out of view. Starting on a search, he met Miss Chalmers, returning from a ride.

"What is it?" she asked.

"The President! He's gone—just a minute ago!"

The girl waited for no more. The President was a hobby—besides, he was a valuable dog.

Careful riding, supplemented by inquiries brought no result, and as day after day passed in fruitless endeavor, she gave up all hope of finding her pet.

One afternoon, however, Miss Chalmers and Dick Rogers, out riding together, cut through a narrow lane.

"There he is!" suddenly cried Evelyn.

"Who, where?" asked Dick, astonished.

"The President!"

"The deuce you say!" rising in his stirrups. "What do you suppose he's doing here?"

"I don't know," said Evelyn impatiently, "but I must get him."

In front of a tiny cottage Praxy was playing with a little boy. Dick laid a restraining hand on the girl's bridle.

"That would never do! Do you imagine they'll give up the dog for the mere asking?"

Indignant, she exclaimed: "Praxy will know me!"

"That doesn't matter," argued Dick. "You will have to prove your claim in their eyes."

After a lingering look the girl slowly turned. With a proud little movement she raised her head. "If they make any fuss, I can resort to the law, I guess. Praxy is pretty well known."

Once home, Miss Chalmers called upon the law and with Benks, chief policeman, early next morning drove over to the isolated house. "Wait over here," she said, "I'll call if I need you."

She picked her way along the stony path, her skirts gathered closely about her. A short bark greeted her tapping, and then the door was opened by a woman with a care-lined face.

"Here, Praxy!" called Evelyn. The sickle dog bounded from an inner room. "He's my dog!" she explained. "I lost him, but neither search nor advertising has done any good. I saw him out yesterday, so I've come."

"The dog stayed in here," said Mrs. Jennings, "with a broken rope around his neck, looked as if he'd been tied. Seemed hungry, too, so I gave him a bit to eat. My boy took to him, so he just stayed on, and Freddie ain't been the same since."

"We had a dog, but he died, and I didn't feel as if we could keep another, but when this one came, and Freddie was so bright with him, I couldn't turn him away. Of course, if he's your dog, why—"

The rest of the sentence caught in her throat. Miss Chalmers eyed her curiously. "Of course he's my dog," she said with slight impatience.

From the inner room came the plaintive tones of a sick child. "It's Freddie," explained Mrs. Jennings, "and it's only the dog as can quiet him."

A man appeared in the doorway.

"Where's the dog?" he queried shortly.

"This lady came for him, doctor," said the mother.

"He's my dog, you see," put in Miss Chalmers.

"You are going to take him away?" he asked.

"Of course!" The girl rose to her full height.

"I don't know," he said slowly; "the little fellow is pretty restless, and it might not be wise."

"Do you mean that I cannot have my dog?"

"I wouldn't, just now." His words themselves a suggestion, from his tone might have held a command. Miss Chalmers stared.

"You see," he continued decidedly, "the dog keeps the child's mind diverted, which is most necessary."

"But I must have my dog!" she said imperiously. "He's a pet and very valuable."

"His price?" asked the doctor.

"Five hundred," said Miss Chalmers.

"I'll give you six for him," said the man.

"No, no, I couldn't sell him!" she cried angrily. "Besides, he's a companion."

The doctor seemed duly impressed.

but persisted. As she watched him, there came to her the momentary impression of a face clear cut against the moonlight. "You are Dr. Redney?" she queried.

He bowed. "Miss Chalmers." Then: "About the dog—are you going to leave him?"

She shook her head. She considered the ring in his voice presumptuous, instead of recognizing it as the outcome of his earnestness.

Unconscious of this, he thwarted the very thing he sought. Angry at her seeming heartlessness, he blundered on, forming a hasty impression of her.

rect as ever. "Freddie is hopeless without him. Only a play with the animal drives him into a natural sleep."

Miss Chalmers bit her lips. "I couldn't part with Praxy," she answered. "Is there no other way?"

Redney shook his head.

"I'll get him another dog," she offered.

"Just now that wouldn't do," replied Redney. "He wants his 'Sun-shy Jim,' as he calls him."

"I'll take Praxy soon," she said in parting.

On her afternoon drive, Evelyn was not so certain of victory. Brooding no dictation, she had easily defied

Evelyn kept her word, always sending Praxy laden with comfort. So Redney sometimes found the terrier when he called, always a new toy or cheerful addition to the meager furnishings; never Miss Chalmers, that lady purposely avoiding him.

At the season's last dances Evelyn was surprised to find herself hoping that Redney would ask her to dance. He did, but just before their number he again sought her.

"I have been called," he said hurriedly, "and must leave at once."

"Freddie!" she asked in an undertone.

"Yes. I have been worried about the stairs, bunched the President off his cushion, ran down again, tripping over her gown, Praxy behind, frantic at the unexpected outing. She directed the coachman, called the President's excitement, and tried, less successfully, to curb her own.

Very soon she stopped out at the cottage. The door was unlatched. She entered quietly and deposited the wriggling Praxy on the bed. Freddie stretched out his arms to the dog with a cry. The girl, recovering her breath, looked across at Redney.

"You!" he exclaimed.

She nodded. "What is it?" she asked, alarmed at his expression.

"There has been a sudden contraction. I dismissed James, thinking to stay till morning. An operation is imperative, not later than tomorrow, and I must arrange for it—yet I do not wish to leave him alone."

"Ah!" With the whisper came a solution of the problem, and she could not restrain a smile to find herself holding the situation, and Redney, the one unnerved. "My carriage is outside. I will stay here."

Redney could see her breath coming quickly. He had opportunity now to learn what she wore, but it was still only something white to him. Her face held him; and she, conscious of his gaze, dropped her eyes, unable to meet his calmly.

It was, perhaps, the first time in her life that she brushed aside personal issues for something deeper. With a few plain instructions—for Mrs. Jennings was prostrated, and not to be depended on—Redney left her, promising as speedy return as possible.

When he came back he found her keeping strict vigil, though Freddie had fallen asleep. As she rose Redney beckoned her to the front room.

"This thing that you have done tonight—do you know how rash it is?"

The girl did not answer, but her face expressed unconcern.

"Why did you do it?"

Something of his own earnestness was reflected in her dark eyes. "You said you were fighting for a life, and I was impelled—as if you had called 'I can't explain—but I felt I could help I and Praxy. As to its being rash—," she shrugged her shoulders. "People will talk," said Redney, watching her.

"In times of urgency formality slips the reins," she quoted.

The color surged to her face. Her memory gratified him. She drew her cloak about her and gathered up her dress. Redney started from a dream.

"Are you going?"

"Can I do anything?" she queried.

He stooped low over Praxy with a thank you. "Thank God for you!" he cried to the girl.

"I must go," she murmured, irrelevantly. "It must be very late."

They parted with a hand pressure that conveyed the understanding of a bond between them.

A week later, when Freddie was on the road to recovery, Redney and Miss Chalmers took a ride. He talked of his work, chiefly, his most hopeless cases—a habit he had fallen into when alone with her. Suddenly he brought his horse close to hers.

"I wonder if you know what it means to a man with a life work ahead to have some one talk with and believe in him; some one ready with encouragement to brush away the doubts, some one who stands for renewed faith in himself?"

"Sympathy is always precious," she answered.

He narrowed her broad statement down to themselves. "That is what you have been doing for me!" he said.

"She tried to laugh him off. Quick to read her thoughts, he checked her. "Ah, yes! At one time I did not understand how to obtain what you had to give; but now it is different. It has been so since that night, when we stood side by side—you and I—haven't I?"

He did not seem to expect an answer; at any rate, she made none.

"You talk of doubt!" cried Evelyn, suddenly. "There's no such word. Happiness, and success are in the air! They're yours—for the taking!" A shadow crossed his face. "Well, then, with a happy loss of her head, 'they're mine, and I give them to you!'"

Meeting her eyes, he smiled, roused to her pitch of confidence; and happy at her influence upon his mood, she challenged him to a race. Down the smooth, cool path they flew, neither caring to gain an inch.

"Tonight!" he breathed, as they parted.

Once again they were to meet at the Irvingtons, who had planned a dinner in Redney's honor, to which he had objected in vain. When the table was cleared the men shouted for a speech. Redney shook his head; he couldn't.

"Then we'll toast you!" cried Irvington.

Each one was called upon, even the ladies. Miss Chalmers, in turn, lifted her glass. "I give you the profession, and one of its noblest followers."

Her was just across from her, and amid the clinking goblets, he raised his own unbidden wine. "I give you—Praxy!" he called softly for her ears alone. Then he murmured a word of thanks, and the merry party scattered.

Evelyn wandered into the open air. It was here, on a night like this, that she first saw the man with the rugged, earnest face.

Just such a moon as shone then now lightened the shadows, a moon replete with the promise of brighter purpose. In attendance, as she rose, was one great faithful star. Evelyn remembered the same quiet in the air, with only the crickets to break it.

In a minute some one stood very close to her, and here was the single difference; for tonight she had a heart, and that the golden moment was bringing her its great desire.

REDNEY AND MISS CHALMERS TOOK A RIDE.

"If you will consent to leave the dog for an hour," he ventured with elaborate courtesy, "the boy may fall asleep, and will not feel the parting so much."

She acquiesced coldly to this. Redney cast a grim look after her retreating figure. When she returned, "here is your dog," he said, quietly enough.

Because Redney had unwittingly chosen an unfortunate attitude, Evelyn left, unaware that the sick child, sensitive from brooding, had lost the gift of sleep; and that Praxy alone could divert him. But one day Redney's card was brought to her.

"I won't detain you a moment, Miss Chalmers. Indeed, I would never have taken this liberty, except through necessity."

She begged him to sit down, coldly polite.

"It's about your dog," he said, directly.

Redney under the stimulus of his peremptory manner. Anyway from him, she saw only an earnest face. Instead of the scenery, she had come out to enjoy. Impatiently she quickened the horse's gait and turned in sharply at the lane.

"I've brought my dog," she explained. "How's your boy?"

"Not very good, Miss," answered the surprised mother. "Doctor says if he could get some strength he'd move him to the city to see about his lameness. He'll be glad to see his Sun-shy dog, Miss. If you could let him come often, Miss?" she added slowly.

Because of her own great pride Evelyn knew that the favor would never have been asked by the other for herself; and suddenly she understood. "I will bring him every day," she promised, and went away thinking of Redney.

him lately. I'm fighting for a life," he added, drawing in his lips. "I must save him if I can—besides, he's a dear little chap. Good night. I so regret the loss of my dance, you don't know how much."

She smiled to see how earnestly he took everything, even a dance.

"Some other time—perhaps?" said Redney tentatively.

"Some other time—of course."

Amid the noise of the ballroom Miss Chalmers fell silent. "I'm fighting for a life" rang in her ears. Did any of those chattering dancers know—or care? Had she ever cared?

Something suddenly shocked her, if she could only get away. Before her flashed Redney's face. Her own lighted with a smile that promised readiness in a crisis. Slipping out, she flew to her carriage.

"Wait!" she ordered. She ran up

THE GOSSIPERS

BY ELSIE ENDICOTT.

HAT Henry Walters and Grace Brown were in love with each other when they married there could be no sort of doubt. The whole village of Davisburg would have sworn to it.

What brought the clouds after a few months? Isn't it odd that lovers have no philosophy about them? They do not look for any change as time passes. There will be no cross words or falling off in demonstrations of affection.

Behold them! Henry smashes his thumb with the hammer one day, and he goes home thinking what a fool he was to hit his thumb instead of the nail. He found his wife in bed with a headache.

She was vexed about it. Why hadn't the ailment come to some one else? Why wasn't Henry home to put a wet cloth on her forehead and utter words of sympathy?

"You are an awfully careless man," he said as he entered the house holding his bruised and bleeding thumb.

"If you hadn't got your feet wet or something, you wouldn't have a headache," was the reply.

These were the first cross words and querulously enough each one was rather glad of it. It was a change from the honey-suckle program.

Grace told the whole village that Henry loved her ears.

Henry told the whole village that her cooking made him ill, and that her temper had become so Satanic that he was really afraid to sleep in the house.

It was more exciting than a dog fight for a time, and there was talk that a boom in real estate would follow. Then the affair began to weary folks, and there was talk that the law ought to be invoked.

Such a dog-and-cat couple ought to be made to get a divorce. Such a bickering must lead to murder after awhile.

It was Deacon Frazer—who suggested a remedy. He was a good man, though the remedy he brought forward was rather heroic for a churchman.

An anonymous letter was received by the quarrelling couple. It was to the effect that if they did not at once cease their bickering or apply for a divorce, something—very—unpleasant—what would happen to them.

"You can see what you have done!" said the husband after reading his letter.

"And you can see what you have done," was retorted.

There was less quarrelling for a week, and then it broke out again.

"This is the second and last warning. It will come prepared to deal with your conduct as it deserves!"

As a matter of fact, neither was alarmed. It was a village where law and order reigned. The minister and two or three others might call in the evening and read husband and wife a lecture on the sin of quarrelling and endeavor to patch up a peace, but there would be nothing beyond that.

"And their talk will do no good with me!" said the husband.

"Nor with me either, unless you are to be taken to an insane asylum," answered the wife.

An hour after midnight one night nine moths wrapped in sheets and having yellow candles drawn over their heads walked abroad in the village streets.

The nine paused in front of a cottage. Its inmates were snoring in peace.

The nine passed through the gate and drew up in line before the door. Then one of their number knocked and fell back. After a minute a half-dressed man opened the door to ask: "Who are you and what do you want?"

"This is the committee of order.

We sent you two warnings and you did not heed them."

"What is it, Henry?" asked the wife, as she was aroused.

"The have come for us!"

"Hen-Henry, I am sorry I have been mean to you," sobbed the wife.

"I have been the meanest of the two," was the reply.

"I was loving you all the time I was quarrelling with you."

"Name here."

"We will give you one minute more," came the throaty voice from outside.

"O, Henry, it will most kill me to have 'em tar and feather you!" moaned the wife.

"And think of their ducking you?"

"My darling!"

"My own!"

"Time's up! Come to your doom," said the nine ghosts in chorus.

Henry seized a hard-wood chair and smashed it on the uncarpeted floor, and hatching one leg of it to his wife he seized another and bounded out of the door.

Crack! Smash! Crack! The nine ghosts had not anticipated nor prepared themselves for resistance, and the attack came with great suddenness. Three or four went down like cowards in a crolone, and the others made their retreat in tremendous haste. None escaped without at least one good whack. The wife used her chair leg with the vigor the husband did his.

"What do you think," shouted Mrs. Hastings next morning as she burst in upon the neighbor, Mrs. Drew.

"Somebody's cow dood?"

"No, sir. The Walters have made up!"

"It can't be!"

"But they have. I was in there ten minutes ago and she was sitting on his knee, and they were so busy calling each other darling and dear that the ham for breakfast was all burning up and the coffee pot was boiling over."

The statement not only turned out to be true, but it was proven that it was the last quarrel to be made up. And yet the gossipers were not happy. They said:

"How simply disgraceful the way Henry Walters and his wife love each other! Really, there ought to be something done about it!"

SIX BEAUX

BY WALTER GREGORY.

"NIE," said Miss Susie. "Mably through the telephone, 'can you come over to the house about 2 o'clock?'"

"Why, I was going out this afternoon."

"Then you'll have to give it up. I must see and talk with you."

"Anything happened?"

"Something dreadful, and I don't know what to do about it."

"Then I'll come and be glad to. Don't commit suicide before I get here."

Miss Susie and Miss Annie were twins, and were therefore at odds most of the time. This happened to be one of the times when they thought the world of each other.

"Something dreadful, eh?" mused Miss Annie as she turned from the telephone. "Now, isn't that nice! I was just wishing that something dreadful would happen to somebody, I am awfully lucky girl."

Annie will know what should be done and she will advise me," sighed Miss Susie as she hung up the receiver. "If I went to mother she'd call me a little idiot. If something isn't done—! But something shall be done!"

Something was done. Six broke a water pitcher on the order to the grocery for her mother, and was gently weeping when Miss Annie arrived.

They fell into each other's arms. Their tears mingled. They wiped their eyes on the same handkerchief.

"Annie Morton," said Miss Susie at last, when they had broken away, "you have got to give me advice or I shall die!"

"You know I will advise you."

"You know Stephen Long?"

"Yes, I know."

"We are the same as engaged. He talks about what and where we will live after marriage."

"Well?"

"Well, I was over to see Mrs. Sibby a few days ago, and after we had talked about other things she says to me, 'Sibby must have been jilted three or four times when she was a girl to know so much. I shouldn't pay the least attention to what she says.' But—but—"

"Susie Mably, I am most 19 years old, am I not?" was loftily asked.

"Yes."

"Haven't I had six different beaux?"

"I—I guess so."

"And don't you think I know about young men's minds?"

"You ought to."

"Well, there you are. You don't want to pay attention to a young man's words altogether. Every young man will swear he loves you beyond anything on earth. You don't want to believe but half of it. The other half should be in his attitude!"

"How attitude?" was asked.

"Does he send bouquets and candy? Does he want to hold your hand? Does he lean toward you when you walk?—If a fellow looks at you does your fellow resent it? What is Stephen's attitude?"

"Why, he just goes along."

"Well, we must have a change. Tomorrow you will get a box of candy, and you must pretend to Stephen that a nice fellow sent it. Friday evening you must come to Amusement Hall with him and dance with three or four fellows. We will watch Stephen's attitude. If he is made jealous he surely intends to marry you. If he doesn't show it then—"

"O, my soul!"

"Then you can commit suicide, and I will hold your hand while you are doing it, and I'll write some poetry for you to leave behind and have published in the papers."

A box of candy came next day. In lead pencil, on the cover thereof, were the initials, "J. M." In the evening Stephen Long dropped in, as was his custom, to see the box, looked at the initials, and without a word ate a good half of the candy.

Susie was in tears. Not even a sign of curiosity, not to mention jealousy! Why didn't Stephen ask who "J. M." was? But Stephen munched the candy and ignored "J. M."

"Stephen, I want to go to Amusement Hall, Friday night," said Susie, shooting her second arrow!

"All right, sis."

Friday night came and the dance came. Also the jiggle-jiggles and the flirtations! Stephen got one single waltz with Susie. He waltzed with others, however, and bought ice cream for others, and at last Susie had to sit down with her tears. To his inquiries as to what was the matter she exclaimed:

"If you cared for me you'd knock the heads off some of these fellows!"

"O—but I've got a better thing," he smiled.

"What's that is it?"

He beckoned to an alderman who came forward and held up a hand for the music to stop and the dancing to cease. Then he took Susie's hand and walked her out and they were married.

"Just letting you have your fling a little before the knot was tied," he smilingly explained to his bride.

Miss Annie Morton stood with open mouth for a minute, and then gasped out:

"Six different beaux have I had, and yet I don't know a clam from a summer squash!"

Mean Thrust.

Gunner—What became of the celebrated pugilist?

Guy—Why, he abandoned the ring, moved to Indiana, and started writing books.

Gunner—What! Still putting people to sleep, eh?

L. R. PAYNE JOINS MANAGEMENT OF ASSOCIATED

Severs Connections As Vice President of Fresno Home Packing Co.

Now Head of Manufacturing Department, Including "Coast" Seeder

Raisin circles were furnished quite a surprise yesterday when announcement was made that L. R. Payne, for several years connected with the Fresno Home Packing Company, had severed his connections with that firm and assumed the position of general manager of the manufacturing department of the California Associated Raisin Company. Payne took up his new duties yesterday morning.

Included under his supervision is the Pacific Coast Seed Raisin Company's big seedling plant. When this plant was taken over by the Associated seedling company, Louis Deloy, who had been manager for a number of years, was retained. Deloy resigned from this position about two weeks ago, to enter into other business.

In assuming control of the manufacturing department, Payne will have supervision of the processing and packing of all raisins shipped from Associated packing houses. This does not include raisins shipped from the houses of packing companies affiliated with the Associated but merely those houses that have been purchased outright by the Associated.

The Associated operates the Pacific Coast Company, the Mowat seeder, the Davis Farmers' Union seeder, the Kings County Raisin & Dried Fruit Company seeder at Armonia, and also owns and operates five or six packing houses in addition. Payne had been associated with the Fresno Home Packing Company for 13 years in the capacity of vice-president of the buying and manufacturing departments.

A standard for quality that will not permit the shipment of poor raisins, is one of the things which Payne hopes to establish for the Associated and he announced last night that he will use all his energies to this end. In the past every individual has had a different standard of quality.

Piano Falls On One Brother; Boy and Sister Hurt In Motorcycle Crash

Two sons and the daughter of a Kerman rancher are confined at 901 Blackstone avenue, all suffering from broken left legs received in two separate accidents. Alva and Maude McKnight were injured about a month ago when they crashed into the rear end of an automobile near Sanger. They were riding on a motorcycle. In the collision Alva and his sister were thrown in such a manner that their left legs were broken.

OFFICER IS SAVED FROM PERMANENT INJURIES BY KEYS

Bullet Glances Off Keyring Into Leg; Assailant At Hospital

The only thing that saved Dr. Hunt from being permanently injured when he was shot three times by John McGee, a negro, is that the bullet, which passed through the fleshy part of his left leg, struck his police whistle and a bunch of keys. The bullet glanced off the keys and did not penetrate the leg. McGee was arrested in Fresno about a year ago by Charles Farnam for stealing a bicycle.

BACKERS OF ROAD TO SELMA PURCHASING MATERIAL

Interurban to Selma Is Now Assured; $200,000 Is Already Pledged

Engineer In San Francisco Securing Prices of Poles and Ties

Announcement was made in the offices of the Fresno Hanford and Summit Lake Railroad Company yesterday that bonds aggregating more than $200,000 had been voluntarily pledged by supporters of the interurban road and that construction on the first unit from this city to Selma would be started just as soon as material could be secured from the East. This is the most definite statement that has yet been issued by the new backers of the line, and it was stated that the road to Selma was not a possibility now but an assured fact.

Just when the work will be started could not be given out, as the date depends entirely upon when shipments can be secured from the East. L. H. Jones, an engineer, in whose hands now rests the management of the interurban road, as at present in San Francisco securing prices on poles and ties for the line. A many purchases as possible will be made on the Pacific coast in order to keep the money "at home" and to insure quick shipments of material.

With the pledge of more than $200,000 the new promoters of the line claim that there is nothing to hold them back now. This amount of money will insure the financial interest on their investment, and as the amount has been pledged voluntarily by Fresno people and those who will be benefited by the line, the promoters feel confident they will have no trouble in raising the remaining $150,000, making a total of $350,000 now allowed by the railroad commission.

The indebtedness of the road under the former management has been paid out in preferred stock and a new mortgage issued, but this act will have to be formally sanctioned by the railroad commissioners.

Part of the financial policy of the new management which has been given much rumormongering yesterday when it was announced that every purchase of bonds stock would be issued at the rate of $500 in stock with $1,000 purchase of bonds.

MALAGAS ARE STILL BRINGING BIG RETURNS

Shippers Planning To Hold Off After Another Week Or 10 Days

Also Expect To Move Large Number of Emperors In Sawdust

Eastern markets on Malaga grapes are showing no tendency whatever to weaken and it is estimated that the average price received per car thus far this week by all companies has been very close to $1,200. This is considered remarkable for this time of the year, when the Malaga season is almost over, and when Tokays are entering into competition.

The heavy shipments of Malagas will probably continue for another week or ten days and then it is expected that there will be a general relaxation. While the bulk of the fruit will probably be moved by that time, shippers are making preparations now to hold a shipment. The most of this fruit will be allowed to remain on the vines if the weather will permit, although a number of firms are to ship in drums, the fruit being packed in sawdust.

While the fruit men want to hold off after another week, because of the fact that the heavy Tokay shipments will then start, there is some doubt whether they will be able to hold off as long as they wish because of weather conditions. The warm weather that has been prevailing here for the past three or four weeks is causing the grapes to ripen quite rapidly whereas the shippers say that cool weather is necessary to keep the grapes on the vines.

The bulk of grapes to be shipped in drums will be Emperors, as it has been found that they remain in good condition longer than any other variety. There will only be a few Malagas shipped in drums.

Nearly all the fruit companies are preparing to ship some drums but a few of the companies are planning on shipping out from 15 to 20 cars of grapes to be stored in the East until the holidays.

Malaga shipments in crates will continue until November, although after next week, the daily movement of fruit will steadily grow less. The shipments now are very close to 50 cars a day from this district.

Some of the growers and shippers in the Lodi district held back their grape shipments for a couple of days from the East in regard to green fruit on account of the complaints coming being shipped. While shipments of Tokays are going forward now quite rapidly, it is not known what the warm weather has done in the way of damage. It is thought there will be some shrinkage because of the warm weather but it is not believed that it will amount to much.
